MBTA Seeks Grant for Dover Street Complex

The Board of Directors of the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority has authorized the filing of a preliminary application for a $20,286,670 grant from the United States Department of Transportation for the construction of the Dover Street Transportation Facilities Complex in South Boston.

The federal funds being applied for represent two-thirds of the estimated net project cost of $30,430,005. The remaining funds, or local contribution, will be realized from the sale of MBTA bonds.

The proposed Dover Street Transportation Facilities Complex, an integral part of the expansion of mass transit to the South Shore and the modernization of the Authority's existing plant and facilities, consists of four subprojects, each of which is essential to the effective and efficient use of the entire complex.

These subprojects are: (1) rapid transit yard and shop facility; (2) rapid transit tunnel connection; (3) surface connection to the South Shore and Cambridge-Dorchester lines; and (4) bus repair and storage facility.

The new complex, to be built on a 24-acre site of the Penn Central's servicing and marshaling yards that the Authority purchased last December, will permit (1) the relocation of the existing Bennett/Eliot facilities in Cambridge where the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library is to be built and (2) replacement of the Albany Street Bus Garage in the South End. The garage property has been offered to the City of Boston for use under the city's urban renewal program.

Preliminary design work for the proposed complex is being performed by Parsons, Brinckerhoff, Quade & Douglas.

The new rapid transit facilities will have the capability of handling all maintenance and repair functions for the existing Cambridge-Dorchester line as well as for the new South Shore extension.

Such a complex will provide the Authority with a single repair and maintenance facility capable of performing all levels of maintenance, which does not now exist, and is designed to have the capability of meeting the rolling stock demands of the 1990s.

To facilitate entrance and egress from the yard and shop area a tunnel will be built as a connecting link in the vicinity of the Broadway Station on the Cambridge-Dorchester line.

In addition, in order to provide flexibility of operations, entrance to and egress from the yard will be provided from the south via a two-mile surface connector, utilizing the existing railroad right-of-way. This connector will join the yard area with the new South Shore extension and the Cambridge-Dorchester line, and terminate in the vicinity of Columbia Station.

The complex will also include a new 200-bus storage, maintenance, and repair facility which will occupy about half of the property purchased from Penn Central. This new bus facility, being designed by DeLeuw, Cather & Company, will have all of the latest equipment for the indoor servicing and repair of buses, including automatic, high-speed fueling and washing equipment. The new bus facility will eliminate air and noise pollution and reduce the wear and tear on the bus fleet.

The entire complex is being designed to permit maximum air rights development as more intense use of land is required.

Construction of the rapid transit facilities is scheduled to begin next spring. These facilities plus the new bus facility are expected to be ready for occupancy about mid-1973.

Hub Receives Landscape Merit Award

Mayor Kevin H. White has announced that an award of merit recognizing landscaping excellence was presented to the City of Boston on October 21 by the American Association of Nurserymen at their eighteenth annual Landscape Awards Program in Washington, D.C.

"The Landscape Award of Merit is a national honor recognizing excellent municipal landscaping that contributes to good community and business relations," said Robert F. Leaderer, executive vice president of the National Nurserymen's Association.

Boston Parks and Recreation Commissioner Joseph E. Curtis received the award on behalf of Mayor White, who is recovering from recent surgery, following an awards luncheon chaired by Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel.

The AAN Landscape Awards Program is credited with playing a major role in causing business and municipalities to be aware of their responsibilities to add to the attractive nature of communities.

The American Association of Nurserymen is a Washington, D.C.-based trade association made up of over 1,800 firms engaged in the growing and selling of plant materials and related products. Boston is proud of the award.

"Clean Air Zone" Regulations Approved

Mayor Kevin White announced on October 20 that the State Public Health Council has approved new city regulations banning the uncontrolled use of high pollutant fuels.

The new regulations are part of Mayor White's "Clean Air Zone" program.

"Through the enforcement of these new regulations we will be able to reduce significantly the dirt and soot in Boston's air and further reduce sulphur oxides," Mayor White said. "Similar regulations should be extended by the state to other areas of Massachusetts where air pollution is just as grave a problem as in Boston."

After a public hearing on August 17 the Boston Commission adopted the regulations and sent them to the State Department of Public Health for their required approval. The Public Health Council gave that approval.

Hub Seeks Construction Halt of Route I-93

Deputy Mayor Edward T. Sullivan, speaking for Mayor Kevin White, said on October 16 that the City of Boston and the City of Somerville will join in legal action to halt the construction of Route I-93.

He said the cities would support the suit filed by the Greater Boston Committee on the Transportation Crisis and the Somerville Citizens for Adequate Transportation against the United States Department of Transportation and the State Department of Public Works.

The citizens' suit was filed in the United States District Court, Boston, in July. The cities of Boston and Somerville joined the suit on October 16.

A statement released by the office of Mayor Kevin White said that the Mayor has repeatedly called for a halt to the construction of I-93, "not only because of the intolerable load of traffic it will deliver into the City of Boston, but because of the loss of housing, additional air pollution, and the threat it poses to the environment of the Somerville and Boston areas."

The new Boston regulations will restrict the new installation of coal and residual oil-burning equipment, beginning January 1. After July 1, 1972, use of heavy fuel oils in small burners must be discontinued. Beginning in 1973, permits will be required for continued use of residual oil in larger units, which must meet strict emission standards, or a switch to cleaner fuels will be necessary.

"Mayor White's involvement has been a major factor in creating, in little more than a year, a very active air quality improvement program for Boston. Now that these regulations have been approved we can move forward even more effectively toward Mayor White's goal of a 'clean air city,'" said David Standley, Executive Director of Boston's Air Pollution Control Commission.

Registrar Urges Caution

Registrar McLaughlin says that beautiful fall foliage may have a very dangerous aftermath when fallen leaves become wet or matted. He asks motor vehicle operators to drive over wet leaves very slowly to avoid skidding.

He also suggests that drivers park their vehicles in safe places off the highway when viewing the foliage panorama.

The Registrar also reminds us that "trick or treaters" will be roaming the streets on Halloween and that extra caution must be exercised by drivers to protect these youngsters. For parents he has this word of caution: "Be sure that the child can be seen; use some reflective material on costumes; and always have an adult accompany younger boys and girls."

DIRECTIVE NO. 16

SUBMISSION OF 1971 BUDGET REQUESTS

To All Department Heads.

On September 7 all agencies received copies of the budget forms and instruction manual for preparation of their 1971 budget requests. On the first page of the instruction manual there is a budget calendar for 1971 which stated that all agencies must submit their budget requests to the Budget Division on November 2, 1970.

It is absolutely imperative that this deadline be met so that the Budget Division will have sufficient time to analyze and evaluate the budget requests and the Mayor will have sufficient time to consider the requests and make his decisions. A considerably longer period of time is required for printing the budget document this year because of the major changes in the budget forms and in the method of printing the document.

Consequently, would you please immediately consult with your budget personnel to determine the current status of preparation of your budget requests and take whatever action is necessary to be sure that the budget request is completed and submitted to the Budget Division by November 2.

EDWARD T. SULLIVAN,
Director.

NO. 44

Hub's Summerthing Lauded Nationwide

The word that Boston's Summerthing is the thing is spreading across the country, according to Summerthing Director Katherine D. Kane.

Said Mrs. Kane, "People from as far away as Atlanta and Detroit read about Summerthing in their local papers this year as the festival received national press acclaim, and phone calls came to Summerthing this summer from such distant cities as Los Angeles, New Orleans, and San Diego, requesting information on how to set up similar festivals."

Mrs. Kane, who as Mayor Kevin White's special assistant for cultural affairs, has headed Summerthing since its inception by the Mayor in 1968, terms the 1970 edition of the festival as completely successful.

The ten weeks of summer saw the festival bring free jazz, movies, block dances, puppets, arts and crafts, photography and film-making, gardening and landscaping projects, drama, dance, improvisational theater, band concerts, build-ins, paint-ins, popular music entertainment, and wall murals to all Boston neighborhoods. Almost 1,000,000 persons enjoyed more than 1,500 performances in parks and playgrounds all over the city, and upwards of 15,000 children, teen-agers, and adults enrolled in one or more of Summerthing's neighborhood workshops.

"In addition to the Boston Ballet Company, the Cambridge Opera Workshop, the New African Company, the Proposition and the Musicians Association Local 9's band concerts," said Mrs. Kane, "we were delighted to welcome the Boston Pops Orchestra to our growing list of Summerthing guest performers, and so were the neighborhoods. In fact, on its first night out in Charlestown, the Pops was welcomed with a 21-gun salute by the local militia, and conductor Harry Ellis Dickson was presented with a pewter mug."

"Because of their growing programs, we designated Beacon Hill and the Bromley Heath project in Jamaica Plain as separate Summerthing areas this year, bringing the total to seventeen," reported Mrs. Kane. The others are Allston-Brighton, Columbia Point, Charlestown, Dorchester, East Boston, Hyde Park, Jamaica Plain, Mattapan, the North End, Orchard Park, Roxbury, Parker Hill-Fenway, the South End, South Boston, and West Roxbury-Roslindale.

Summerthing's third season saw its mobile fleet expand to include the Theatremobile, which offered The Funny Little Theatre, Stage One Drama Workshop's Pieces for Children, and Suzi Linn and Her Puppets; the Street Corner Ensemble, which brought to neighborhoods instant mini-concerts by ten local college students; with the cooperation of the Children's Museum, the Earthmobile, which offered adventures in urban environment; a Muralmobile, which taxied painting supplies to wall mural sites all over the city; and the Multimediamobile, from the Children's Museum, which offered an exploration of Black Experience with multimedia techniques. Also members of the mobile fleet are the Summerthing regulars—the People and Players Theatre Company, the Moviebus, the Plantmobile, the Craftsmobiles, and the Jazzwagon, which is loaned to Summerthing each year by the South End Neighborhood Action Program.

For the first time in 1970 the Schaefer Music Festival, in cooperation with Summerthing and Harvard Stadium, presented in Boston sixteen concerts with such music greats as The Band, Ray Charles, Jose Feliciano, and Janis Joplin. The concerts were entirely underwritten by Schaefer, and a percentage of the modest admission charge was turned over to Summerthing.

"Very evident this year," said Mrs. Kane, "was that the neighborhoods are becoming more and more innovative with their individual festivals. For instance, East Boston established a very successful mobile workshop to visit areas in that neighborhood unable to hold their own workshops. Parker Hill came up with the idea of roving sing-alongs and chalk-ins. Jamaica Plain held a nine-hour rock picnic at the Jamaica Plain Sugar Bowl, which drew raves from the over 2,000 teen-agers who attended. Dorchester has established a year-round community music school where anyone can learn all about music—from appreciation to playing an instrument. Allston-Brighton ran an International Food Fair. And all the neighborhoods this year reached out to include in their activities people who could not get out to Summerthing events—such as those in nursing homes, detention centers, children's homes, hospitals, and centers for the elderly."

"Summerthing 1970 was an excellent, satisfying year," said Mrs. Kane with a smile, "but wait until you see Summerthing 1971—we're already at work on it to make it the best ever."

Volunteers Clean Up Neponset River

A massive day-long cleanup of the Neponset River took place Saturday, October 24.

The volunteer effort, coordinated by Robert Salisbury and John Cronon of the Neponset Valley Watershed Commission, covered 24½ miles of the Neponset and its tributaries from Boston to the Neponset Reservoir in Foxboro.

Mayor Kevin H. White gave the cleanup project his full support, and the Boston Parks and Recreation Department Commissioner, Joseph E. Curtis, announced that two members of his department, John T.

Landry, senior recreation coordinator, and George E. Boutelier, assistant superintendent of maintenance served as directors for the Boston section of the cleanup.

The Parks and Recreation Department contributed the largest supply of cleanup equipment for the day-long project, including plastic litter bags, trucks, and other maintenance equipment.

Volunteer groups and individuals from fourteen cities and towns along the river participated in the cleanup, which also received backing from the Metropolitan District Commission, the State Department of Natural Resources, and the Neponset Conservation Association.

Tree Preservation for Hub

Boston Parks and Recreation Commissioner Joseph E. Curtis announced on October 29 a city-wide program of tree preservation which will go into effect immediately.

The policy, designed to conserve the rapidly deteriorating number of trees in the urban area, bans all tree cutting that is not necessitated by confirmed tree disease or the existence of a hazardous situation.

"What this new policy means is that we won't be cutting trees for convenience or for esthetic planning," said Commissioner Curtis.

He explained the reasons behind the policy and advocated taking a good look at the downtown area from one of our taller buildings. With the exceptions of the Common and the Public Garden the center of the city is treeless.

"Any new construction programs will be planned with strong consideration for conserving trees on the site. We intend to build around the trees, instead of uprooting them."

Mr. Curtis also stated that the Parks and Recreation Department is exploring the possibility of acquiring a veto power on the private destruction of trees.

Legal study is being made to determine whether a municipal agency could be granted the authority to decide whether or not trees on private land can be "promiscuously destroyed."

Supplemental Funds

Sought by MBTA

The Board of Directors of the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority has authorized the filing of a preliminary application with the United States Department of Transportation for $18,736,467 in supplemental funds to complete the South Shore rapid transit extension.

If D.O.T. approves the request for supplemental funds, the Authority will be able to complete the line to South Braintree, including construction of stations at North Braintree, South Braintree, and the Ivory Street Extension.

The application will provide additional funds to cover unforeseen costs and the extraordinary high rate of inflation in the construction industry which could not be anticipated when the Authority filed its original application on January 4, 1967, and amended it on August 17, 1967. The application also alters the scope of the South Shore project, as the Authority is requesting funds for the construction of the North Braintree Station and the Ivory Street Extension, which were not part of the original and amended applications.

BPL Floor Plan-Directory

The Boston Public Library, while acknowledged as a magnificent example of Italian Renaissance architecture, is a very difficult building in which to find one's way. Steps have been taken to help readers, especially those who are coming to the Library for the first time.

A floor plan-directory is being prepared for distribution at the Information Desk in the Main Lobby and at other points throughout the building. It's to be available free of charge.

The up-to-date floor plans appearing in this brochure will be displayed prominently throughout the building, also. They will be accompanied by a concise description of units and activities on each floor.

In addition to this brief guide to the Library's resources and facilities, readers are urged to consult with staff members for directions and suggestions for the best use of the Library's materials.

Readers are advised to begin their search for books in the General Library on the first floor. Because of the size of the collection (over 180,000 nonfiction and fiction books for adults), its simple arrangement, and the fact that you are able to take the books right off the shelves, you can find books more quickly and perhaps see some others which might prove satisfying.

I. FIRE LIEUTENANT JOSEPH J. DOWNING

It is with deep regret that the Fire Commissioner announces the death on October 16, 1970, of Fire Lieutenant Joseph J. Downing of Engine Company 2 from injuries sustained in the line of duty. Fire Lieutenant Downing was severely burned as the result of an automobile gas tank explosion at still alarm opposite 18 Dorchester Street, South Boston, about 4:30 P.M., September 19, 1970. Fire Lieutenant Downing was appointed to the department on January 29, 1947, and was promoted to the grade of Fire Lieutenant on December 17, 1969.

The funeral was held from the Mulry Funeral Home, 223 Neponset Avenue, Dorchester, at 9 A.M., October 20, 1970, followed by a Requiem High Mass in St. Ann's Church, 243 Neponset Avenue, Dorchester, at 10 A.M.

The Chief of Department detailed the Rifle Honor Guard to serve as funeral escort, and members of Engine Company 2 were excused to attend the services. A large number of off-duty officers and members attended the funeral services, together with delegations from the Boston Police Department and fire departments from surrounding cities and towns.

The members of the Rescue-Pumper Unit and Ladder Company 23 are to be commended for their demonstration of esprit de corps and cooperation in voluntarily manning the apparatus of Engine

IV. MASSACHUSETTS BAY UNITED FUND CAMPAIGN, 1971

His Honor Mayor Kevin H. White has called attention to the Annual United Fund Campaign for 1971, which is now under way. The Mayor hopes that the customary generosity of the Fire Department employees will be repeated again this year.

Pledge cards and literature concerning the United Fund Campaign are being distributed to the department today. Each member will receive the card upon which his name has already been inscribed.

Company commanders and heads of branch divisions are requested to interview each member of their commands, including employees on sick and injured leave, and ask them to make a contribution. All pledge cards are to be completed and returned to Headquarters on or before October 30, 1970. However, completed cards with initial donations should be sent to Headquarters as soon as possible before the above date. Company commanders are requested not to hold a number of completed cards while awaiting receipt of others.

Cards of members who request that payroll deductions be made should be separated from cards accompanied by donations. Both groups of cards should be forwarded to Headquarters by October 28, 1970, if possible.

All pledge cards and currency will be received at Headquarters by Head Clerk Joseph Cawley on or before October 30, 1970. Cards pledging donations through payroll deductions should also be forwarded to him. Delivery of pledge cards and money can be made on any weekday, except Saturday, between 9 A.M. and 3 P.M.

A member may pledge a sum of money and have it deducted on the department payroll in accordance with the provisions of chapter 180, section 17B, of the General Laws. However, deductions can be made on the payroll only four times a year, during the weeks in which there will be no Blue Cross deductions, as follows: weeks ending March 31, June 30, September 1, December 1, 1971.

Deductions of less than $1 cannot be made on the payroll. There is a space on each card for a member who desires to pledge a certain amount to make a down payment and have the United Fund bill him for the balance in four payments as indicated on the card, or on some particular date to be inserted on the card by the member.

Additional pledge cards and envelopes may be obtained at Headquarters.

V. LETTER OF APPRECIATION

The following letter from the Boston Catholic Television Center to the Fire Commissioner is hereby published for the information of the department:

"October 19, 1970.

DEAR COMMISSIONER:

We are gradually beginning to level out after our disastrous fire at 25 Granby Street and have just established temporary headquarters at 211 Bay State Road.

I hasten to send you a word of thanks for the wonderful cooperation of all your boys at the fire and the loan of equipment afterwards to help us clean up. They did a marvelous job for us.

Our plans for the future have not been established but hopefully we will relocate or rebuild somewhere, sometime.

Gratefully yours,

FR. FLAHERTY

(REV. MONS. WALTER L. FLAHERTY)."

BCH Expands Drug Treatment Centers

Turn Off's 24-hour drug information center began at BCH six months ago. An addict taking a bad trip, a concerned parent, or anyone seeking information can call 261-2600 any time, day or night. This is part of the comprehensive city-wide Turn Off Program to combat drug addiction.

Located in the Dowling Building near the Admitting Office, a staff of twenty people, including several ex-addicts, quickly provide reliable information to the callers. Confidentiality is maintained throughout the program.

Turn Off is primarily a referral service which directs callers to agencies that can help. To date approximately 3,000 people have called Turn Off. Its proximity to the BCH staff allows immediate medical or psychiatric consultation.

Director of the drug information center, Miss Ann Ramsay, formerly a social worker with juvenile addicts in New York City, emphasized the seriousness of the drug problem today. Boston alone has over 10,000 addicts.

A free laboratory drug identification center provides analysis of unidentified drugs within three days, including the effects of the substance if it were digested. Additional drug identification centers are located at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Beth Israel Hospital, Mattapan Chronic Disease Hospital, and the East Boston Relief Station.

Other elements in the city-wide drug plan include:

The expansion of drug treatment centers, to include the opening of the East Boston Clinic and a ten-bed detoxification unit at Mattapan, and the expansion of the staff at Boston City Hospital.

An emphasis on drug education, with programs beginning in the Boston public schools, and the establishment of neighborhood Drug Action Committees to educate parents and youth workers.

Creation of a law enforcement program to investigate rehabilitative rather than punitive methods for treating drug abusers.

Additional staff for the methadone program to more effectively handle the present patient load. Methadone is a synthetic drug which satisfies the patient's craving for heroin.

Elaborating further on the methadone program, Dr. Vernon Patch, medical director of Turn Off, stated that within the next few months a methadone "blockade" program will begin. This is a form of high-dosage treatment used for hard-core addicts only under special circumstances. It has been successfully conducted in New York for the past seven years and is carefully governed by the Food and Drug Administration and the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs.

Presently Turn Off is conducting a low-dose withdrawal program under which a patient's addiction can be controlled by prescribing methadone. The physician gradually reduces the daily doses and ultimately effects a painless withdrawal of heroin.

Cardinal Cushing Dies

Statement by Mayor Kevin H. White on November 2:

Rarely in the history of the Roman Catholic Church in America has any one priest so forcefully dominated the intellectual and moral life of his community and his church.

Cardinal Cushing was a man of God. His dedication, his strong character, his love of people, and his self-effacing humor imprinted his image in the hearts and minds of people of all faiths. We shall never see his like again.

Through his vision and his efforts he was a prime catalyst in the success of the ecumenical movement in this country. In Boston he was a healing force in the unending crusade to unite people of different races and religions.

Boston State Admits More Police Cadets

Four Boston police cadets have been accepted for admission to Boston State College. The selection of these four cadets, John E. Tracey of Temple Street, West Roxbury, Joseph A. Chianca, Jr., of Lexington Street, East Boston, John J. Burns of Dell Avenue, Hyde Park, and Kevin J. Cavanagh of Richfield Street, Dorchester, was made from a competitive list on the basis of scores made on scholastic aptitude tests. The opportunity to submit scholastic aptitude test scores in consideration for admission to Boston State College was made available to all Boston police cadets.

In compliance with the recommendations of the many committees, both federal and local, who unanimously agree that the promotion of efficiency in law enforcement will come about by better educated police, this program is hoped to continue allowing police cadets to further their education.

Need a Job?

The Internal Revenue Service needs 2,000 seasonal employees to process income tax returns at its division headquarters in Andover. The pay ranges from $88 to $112 a week. In an effort to attract workers, who will be trained for the jobs for which they are wanted, IRS has mailed many thousands of circulars to persons taken from their income-tax-paying lists.

These scholarships were made available by the United States Department of Justice, Office of Law Enforcement Education Program, Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, in conjunction with Boston State College and the Gillette Company.

The Boston Police Department now has a total of ten cadets attending Boston State College, working toward bachelor's degrees, on their own time.

Housing Projects Recreation Program

In a unique cooperative effort a massive $1,000,000 dollar recreation building program is under way in Boston public housing. Six housing developments in the City are officially breaking ground at selected area sites for the eventual construction of multipurpose recreation centers.

Unification of effort was evident with the presence of Daniel J. Finn, Boston Housing Authority Administrator and Joseph E. Curtis, Commissioner of Parks and Recreation, at the ground-breaking ceremonies on October 31 at Columbia Point, Gallivan Boulevard, Archdale, Orchard Park, Mission Hill, and Charlestown developments.

Tenant committees in each area are participating in all aspects of the development stages. Area meetings, under the chairmanship of Senior Recreation Coordinator John Landry, Parks and Recreation, are scheduled until completion.

Instituted by Mayor Kevin H. White, this program is designed to relieve the critical recreation conditions in public housing.

Upon completion, the buildings will be staffed and maintained by Parks and Recreation under the "turn-key" arrangement.

This undertaking should hopefully guarantee a blueprint for the future of recreation in all Boston public housing developments.

Cardinal . . .

As a product of South Boston, Cardinal Cushing knew his flock well. He had known poverty and struggle, success and disappointment, physical pain and mental anguish, and I believe it was the physical and spiritual strength so traditional of his people that sustained him through his last quarter century as archbishop.

His record as an administrator is unparalleled. His founding of one hundred new parishes, ten central Catholic high schools, and four hospitals is merely a litany of physical achievement. His true achievement was spiritual.

Cardinal Cushing had a burning desire to serve people of all races and creeds, to advance social causes, to fight for justice and decency. To achieve these ends he brought twenty religious orders into the archdiocese, and their corporal works have lessened the burdens of thousands of people.

Cardinal Cushing was one of the finest men I have ever known. His death diminishes us all.

Boston Children's Theatre

The Boston Children's Theatre has a delightful 1970-71 season planned celebrating the twentieth anniversary of this wonderful group, where children do the performing for other children.

The initial production was Heidi. It opened at New England Life Hall on October 31. A performance is scheduled for November 14 at 10.30 A.M. and 2 P.M. The season continues with the presentation of Hansel and Gretel, opening December 5; Hans Brinker, opening February 6; Emperor's New Clothes, opening March 13 and concludes with Sleeping Beauty, which opens April 21.

The BCT touring company will be available for week-end and vacation-week engagements to offer the unusual fun of live theatre to the neighboring communities. Write or call the Boston Children's Theatre, 263 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston, Mass. 02116, for information and reservations regarding the Winter Theatre or the touring company.

UNITED FUND MONTH!

Veterans' Day

One minute before eleven o'clock in the morning of November 11, 1918, the long battlefield in France shook with the roar of cannon. One minute later, a complete silence. Then the shouts of soldiers and a cry of joy that reechoed throughout the world. The armistice with Germany, signed at 5 A.M. that morning, had gone into effect. So ended the fighting in the First World War, which had cost more lives than any previous war in history. Ever since, the allies have commemorated November 11 as Armistice Day (now known as Veterans' Day). An armistice differs from a truce in that it extends to the whole or a considerable part of the armies of two or more countries, and precedes or looks toward negotiations for peace. Advances, retreats, or the redistribution of troops in the fighting line are forbidden during an armistice, but supplies and reinforcements may be brought up. It was this kind of armistice that was concluded between the central powers on the one side and Russia on the other, December 15, 1917. The armistices which were concluded between the victorious allies on one side and defeated Bulgaria (September 29); Turkey (October 31); Austria-Hungary (November 3), and Germany (November 11, 1918) were of a different sort. They contained such severe terms that, instead of maintaining the existing military situation (status quo), they were deliberately framed so as to make it impossible for the central powers to resume the war. They amounted, therefore, to surrender on the part of Germany and her allies and forecast the peace terms to be imposed on the defeated states. It is customary in the United States at 11 A.M., on November 11, to stand for one minute in silent tribute to our fallen World War heroes, who have so nobly sacrificed their lives for the cause of peace.

His body lay in state in the Cathedral of the Holy Cross in Boston's South End from November 3 to November 7. More than half a million people of all races and creeds viewed the body of this beloved prelate.

It was said of him that he was "ecumenical" the day he became a priest. The concelebrated joyous Mass of the Resurrection held Saturday, November 7, at 11 A.M., was attended by church leaders of all faiths, Protestant and Orthodox clergy, dignitaries, political leaders, municipal employees, and his "little poor people" whom he held closest to his heart. Christmas Seal Campaign

Rosemarie Van Camp, featured newscaster at WHDH-TV (channel 5), was named as the 1970 Massachusetts Honorary Christmas Seal Chairman during ceremonies recently at the Sheraton Lexington Motor Inn.

Also sharing honors was Dr. Robert Anderson who was recently named Managing Director of the National Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association.

Miss Van Camp heads the 64th Annual Christmas Seal Campaign and is joined in her duties by Gail Patrick Jackson, the 1970 National Honorary Christmas Seal Chairman.

Christmas Seals which originated to help conquer tuberculosis now aid in projects of research and education about problems of all respiratory ailments including emphysema, chronic bronchitis, allergies, and also air pollution and cigarette smoking.

In Massachusetts, fourteen local tuberculosis and respiratory disease associations are conducting Christmas Seal Campaigns with the contributions being primarily destined for public service projects in the local areas.

Five Changes for Parks Department

Mayor Kevin White announced on November 10, major changes in the Parks and Recreation Department which aim to increase its accountability and responsiveness to the neighborhoods.

These changes focus on the house-keeping problems of parks and playgrounds, repair and maintenance, and involve redistricting, reassignment of staff, and identification of park areas to receive priority treatment, according to the Mayor.

"During the past three years, we have focused the department's efforts on rebuilding parks and playgrounds. As a result, improvements at fifty-eight recreation areas are planned or under way. In addition, we are working with community groups on specific ideas for another twenty-three areas across the city," said the Mayor.

"While this major restoration program was moving forward, the Office of Public Service (OPS) studied the day-to-day problems of the department. With the changes we are now making, the department will use its resources more effectively to care for all parks on a regular basis," he added.

Parks and Recreation Commissioner Joseph E. Curtis outlined the changes:

1. Park maintenance foremen will be assigned to seven districts, smaller and more closely coincident with the areas served by Little City Halls.

2. Park areas to receive priority treatment will be identified, and maintenance and repair efforts will be focused on these community priorities.

3. An additional special centrally based crew will provide regular care for many squares and small parks.

4. Certain personnel will be assigned to emergency duty only, guaranteeing that regular personnel can devote full attention to neighborhood parks.

5. A new system of record-keeping equipment and personnel development will soon be in effect.

Statement by Mayor Kevin White on Tax Plan

The long-awaited report of the Master Tax Plan Commission is encouraging if for no other reason than that it appears that there is movement toward a massive restructuring of the archaic tax system of the Commonwealth and its 351 cities and towns.

The problem long ago was recognized — homeowners no longer can afford to bear a disproportionate share of the spiraling costs of state and local government. We now have the momentum to go all the way in directing a complete overhaul of the system.

We have waited more than two years for the commission's report. The Legislature must act promptly to implement it. The cities and towns cannot wait another year for the help which is desperately needed to unshackle the homeowners from the staggering property tax burden.

The Master Tax Plan is complicated and, in parts, controversial, but it must be accepted as a basic statement of a very real and pressing need. The details of its implementation must be worked out by prompt and nonpartisan effort on the part of the Legislature and the governor.

I would also urge the Legislature not to overlook the potential source of $100 million in new state revenue that could be derived from off-track betting. I have discussed the merits of establishing state-operated betting offices previously and I am convinced that the New York experiment will bear out the validity of this new revenue source.

Towing Begins for Illegally Parked Cars

Expanded towing of illegally parked vehicles at peak traffic hours in order to improve traffic flow would begin on Tuesday, November 10, Boston Traffic and Parking Commissioner William R. McGrath announced on November 9.

The initial program will be concentrated on twelve critical downtown streets and will be extended to other critical areas as quickly as circumstances permit, McGrath said. "The program has been worked out in close coordination with the Boston Police Department, and Commissioner McNamara has committed his department's support in all phases," he explained.

The immediately affected streets are Boylston, Congress, Court, Eliot, Essex, High, Kneeland, South, State, Stuart, Tremont, and Washington.

Commissioner McGrath stated that the main thrust of the program would be to clear curb lanes for moving traffic during peak travel hours. He pointed out that the affected lanes have been posted with new signs which read "TOW ZONE —NO STANDING". In addition, the signs specify the hours to which the regulation applies, usually 7 A.M. to 9:30 A.M., or 4 P.M. to 6 P.M. "This regulation," he said, "means no one is allowed to park during the listed hours. The curb lane is reserved at that time for moving traffic."

Operation Cleanup

Two hundred students donned their roller skates on November 9 in their personal drive to combat air pollution. Armed with brooms on their shoulders, they skated to the new Copley Square and swept it clean.

The cleanup was jointly sponsored by the Boston Parks and Recreation Department and the New England School of Art and started at 2 P.M. The students put on their skates at the New England School of Art, 285 Huntington Avenue, and skated down Massachusetts Avenue to Boylston Street and down Boylston into Copley Square.

The program will also be applied on the affected streets against vehicles parked illegally at loading zones, bus stops, hydrants, taxi stands, crosswalks, and double parked.

Commissioner McGrath says he also intends to assist the courts in their efforts in the "tow and hold" program. This is the program under which vehicles with more than ten unpaid parking tickets are held until all tickets have been paid. "This is an effort to prevent continual violations by a few persons who tend to ignore all regulations," McGrath said.

The initial program is not as extensive as originally planned, due to delays in delivery of the tow trucks, according to McGrath. He said he felt the situation was too acute to wait any longer and he is proceeding with seven available trucks. The others will be put into service as soon as they arrive, he said.

NO. 47

Eternal Light Memorial at Police Headquarters

On Wednesday, October 28, in the John Hancock Hall, Berkeley Street, Boston, a formal ceremony creating a permanent memorial to the Boston police officers who sacrificed their lives in the performance of their duties took place.

Commissioner Edmund L. McNamara granted permission to members of the Boston Police Relief Association to design a fitting tribute to those brave officers.

Accordingly, a committee, chaired by Patrolman Fred A. Greeley and capably assisted by all the police superintendents, furnished the nationally known sculptor, Theodore C. Barbarossa, with department photographs of all the Boston police officers who have been killed in the line of duty.

Mr. Barbarossa then erected a life-size composite bust which was six months in the making. Commissioner McNamara accepted the sculpture on behalf of the Boston Police Department, and it is now a permanent memorial, located in a draped area in the main lobby of Police Headquarters at 154 Berkeley Street. We recommend it to the public for viewing.

Those attending the ceremonies were relatives of the deceased officers, Deputy Mayor Edward T. Sullivan, members of the City Council, many civic and community leaders, and a class of 169 newly appointed officers.

The principal speakers were Commissioner McNamara, Mrs. Kathryn White, representing Mayor Kevin White who was unable to attend due to illness, Superintendent William Taylor, and Patrolman Roy Moser, president of the Boston Police Relief Association, who acted as master of ceremonies.

C of C Conference

Business prospects for 1971 in four key Greater Boston industries will be offered at the annual "Business Outlook Conference," which will be staged under the auspices of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday, November 24.

The program will be moderated by Chamber President William J. Speers, Jr., and will include in-depth forecasts by Claude F. Machen, president of the Boston Gas Company, who will discuss the prospects for Greater Boston service industries; George Rockwell, president of the State Street Bank and Trust Company, who will prognosticate for the banking and finance interests; Herbert Roth, Jr., president of LFE Corporation, who will volunteer a 1971 outlook for the electronics research and development sector; and C. Vincent Vappi, president of Vappi and Company, who will look into the future of local construction activity.

For further information concerning the Chamber's "Business Outlook Conference," which, in past years, has been known as the "Year-End Business Conference," contact the Chamber's Research and Development Department.

Thanksgiving Day

In the first year of his office, President George Washington issued a proclamation recommending that November 26, 1789, be kept as a day of "national thanksgiving" for the establishment of a form of government that made for safety and happiness. For years the festival was almost exclusively a New England institution, celebrated by religious services in the churches, the sermon often a political address, and by the gathering at the old home of the scattered members of the family. The day gradually became a custom in the western and some of the southern states, each appointing its own day. In 1864 President Lincoln issued a proclamation in which he "appointed and set aside" the last Thursday in November as a day of national thanksgiving "for the defense against unfriendly designs without and signal victories over the enemy who is of our own household." Until 1939 each president followed Lincoln's example in proclaiming the last Thursday of November a national day of thanksgiving. In that year Franklin D. Roosevelt, desiring to lengthen the interval between Thanksgiving and Christmas, named the next to the last Thursday as the date of celebration. But in December, 1941, Congress passed a resolution making the fourth Thursday a legal holiday. Governors in the various states usually issue proclamations to this effect. The day is also celebrated in all the territories and possessions.

Rent Control Board Explains Law

Hundreds of Boston tenants and landlords have been calling City Hall recently, to ask when rent control is going into effect. The fact is that Boston's Rent Control Ordinance is in effect and has been since November of 1969.

The Board of Rent Appeals, which administers rent control, has been in operation since January of this year and has processed about 1,200 tenant complaints. The Boston rent control system continues to operate while the Boston City Council considers ways of making rent control stronger.

Board Chairman Thomas A. Sullivan has urged tenants who have received rent increases or who have any questions about their rents to call the Board's office at 722-4100.

The Rent Board is empowered to hear cases involving complaints opposing rent increases and complaints seeking reductions in present rents. Once a tenant has registered a complaint, the Board has the power to fix the rent, but a tenant must register a complaint before any action can be taken under the current law.

The existing rent control law regulates rents in all apartments for which a complaint has been filed except those in buildings containing fewer than four rental units, or those which are classified as luxury units (that is, apartments with one bedroom which rented at $185 or more on December 1, 1968; apartments with two bedrooms renting at $235 or more on December 1, 1968; or apartments with three or more bedrooms renting at $285 or more on December 1, 1968).

The current rent control law requires that all owners seeking rent increases in apartments send Board-approved notice to both the tenant and the Board of Rent Appeals at least thirty days before the increase is supposed to go into effect. The required notice form tells the Board and the tenants how much the rent is being increased and informs tenants of their right to file a complaint opposing the increase within fourteen days.

If a landlord does not comply with the requirement that he use the approved notice form, the fourteen-day time limit is waived, and the tenant can protest the increase at any time.

John S. Grace, executive director of the Board, said that the agency is prepared to crack down on landlords who fail to register rent increases, do not cooperate in filing financial information, or attempt to interfere with tenants' legal rights under the rent control law.

Hub Bond Sale for Capital Improvements

The City of Boston sold $30 million in various purpose general obligation bonds to the First National City Bank of New York at a net interest cost of 5.84 percent, acting mayor Gabriel F. Piemonte announced on November 18.

The First National City Bank headed the lowest bid among three competitive bids opened at noon on November 17, Piemonte said.

The bonds, which will mature in from one to twenty years, will be used to finance capital improvements for the city such as repairs and construction of streets, sidewalks, sewers, schools, and libraries.

"We are especially pleased with this bond sale," Piemonte said, "because the low interest rate reflects the financial community's confidence in Boston's economic health and prosperous future."

Councillor Piemonte, President of the City Council acted as the city's chief executive until Mayor White returned from a ten-day vacation on November 19.

Msgr. Lally, BRA, Resigns

Msgr. Francis J. Lally resigned on November 17 as chairman of the Boston Redevelopment Authority. The resignation is effective immediately.

In a letter dated November 16 to Mayor White, Monsignor Lally noted that he had offered his resignation on July 7, "effective on the appointment of my successor."

"I think now, since nearly four months have passed, that I should make my resignation effective with the date on which you receive this communication," he explained.

"May I say again how much I have enjoyed working with your administration and yourself, and offer my best wishes for your improved health and success in office," he said in closing.

A spokesman for the Mayor said Mayor White will fill the vacancy in the very near future.

Monsignor Lally was appointed to the five-member Board on September 17, 1957, and has served as chairman since April 12, 1961.

Winter Parking Regulations

Traffic and Parking Commissioner William R. McGrath announces the all-night parking rule in effect during the winter months.

During the period from November 15, 1970, through March 31, 1971, all-night parking is allowed ONLY on the even-numbered side of the street. This rule is effective in every section of the City of Boston outside of the Central Business District. There are two exceptions to this rule:

1. If there are signs reading "No Parking Anytime" on the even-numbered side of the street only, then one may park all night on the odd-numbered side of that particular street.

2. If there are signs reading "No Parking Anytime" on both sides of the street, one may not park on either side.

In addition to the above daily rule, whenever a snow emergency is declared by the Commissioner parking is prohibited on both sides of all emergency arteries. Those arteries are marked with special signs for that purpose.

The Commissioner explains that failure to comply with the above constitutes a traffic hazard, impairing transportation, the movement of food, fuel supplies, medical care, fire, health, and police protection, and other vital services to the residents of Boston.

Also, the Commissioner wishes to request all motorists using the streets of Boston to take necessary steps for procuring snow tires, chains, charged batteries, and winterization of their vehicles in order to cope with the snowstorms that we may have in the area.

"Forewarned is to be forearmed." Let's prepare ourselves against the snowstorms to keep our streets clear of stalled vehicles. Thereby traffic will move in Boston.

HON. KEVIN H. WHITE, MAYOR OF BOSTON

GABRIEL F. PIEMONTE
PRESIDENT CITY COUNCIL

VOL. 62

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1970

NO. 48

Mayor Officiates at Christmas Festival

The City of Boston officially welcomed the Christmas season on November 27, when Mayor White officiated at the lighting of the City's Advent Wreath at City Hall and the 30,000 lights decorating Boston Common.

The Mayor led the ceremonies which marked the beginning of the city's twenty-first annual Christmas Festival at 4:30 P.M. at City Hall Plaza and at 6 P.M. at Boston Common.

The Mayor lit the first candle of the Advent Wreath at City Hall. After ceremonies, including Christmas carols, city officials and entertainers repeated the ceremonies at Boston Common opposite the State House. There Mayor White threw the switch that illuminated the city's 80-foot Christmas tree as well as the other lights on the Common.

Flanking the city's Christmas tree will be descending rows of smaller lighted trees leading to the crèche and nativity figures.

In addition to the Common's giant elm trees, sparkling again this Christmas with cascades of color, lights will adorn the fruit trees lining the Tremont Street mall. There will also be traditional Christmas figures and live reindeer on the Common.

Entertainment for the festival included Christmas carols by St. Ann's Boys Choir and the Boston Fire Department Band.

Disneyland performers were on hand for the children's entertainment. They included "Scatman" Crothers and Fulton Burley and several costumed characters based on the new Walt Disney Productions cartoon feature "The Aristocats."

The holiday spirit will extend from the Common to City Hall. Inside the building this year, children of all ages will delight in the traditional sights of spun-sugar trees, elves, a nativity scene, colored lights, and other Christmas ornaments.

Concerts by choirs from Boston schools will be presented daily from twelve to two, beginning November 30.

In addition to the familiar signs of the times, City Hall will offer a very special Christmas present to the city's children.

"What is it? Visit. Revisited," a participatory art show for children and their families, will be open from December 5 through January 2 in the City Hall Exhibition Gallery on the fifth floor.

The show, designed by the Institute of Contemporary Art and the Children's Museum, seeks to allow young people to discover and become comfortable with the principles of the visual world. It includes fun-house mirrors, a "feel it" forest, sailor knots, found objects, a sand pendulum, and many artistic ventures that children may participate in while going through the exhibit.

The show will be open Monday through Friday from 10 A.M. to 4 P.M. and Saturdays from 10:30 A.M. to 3:30 P.M.

The Christmas Festival is sponsored by the Mayor's Office, the city's Office of Cultural Affairs, and the Parks and Recreation Department.

UCS Lauded for Hub Support

The father of the Community School Movement, Dr. Frank Manley, was a recent visitor to Boston. For thirty years he has been closely associated with Charles Stewart Mott of the Mott Foundation in Flint, Michigan, where they conceived and developed the community school idea. Conferring for several days with UCS staff, local educators, and school authorities, and becoming acquainted with the growth and potential of community schools in the Massachusetts Bay area, Dr. Manley left "thoroughly impressed" with the progress of the movement, and the support given by UCS in the Boston area.

He conferred with UCS Executive Director Dr. Harold W. Demone, Jr., and Planning Associate Solomon Fuller, who directs the Council's Community Education Bureau. The UCS role, it was explained, is one which seeks to convene and integrate public and private community services with those

New Directory of

H & W Services

A new, completely revised and expanded edition of the "Directory of Social, Health, Welfare, and Rehabilitation Services in Massachusetts" has been published by United Community Services.

The only directory of its kind published and made available in Massachusetts, it lists more than 900 separate local facilities and all major state-wide service organizations as well as their branch offices.

Each agency listed is described briefly, including its scope of services, whom it serves, and where to contact agency personnel for additional information.

The directory groups state-wide service organizations with several or more branches in one section, and local agencies and institutions in another—all arranged alphabetically by city or town.

In addition, the directory includes two indexes—one by name of agency and another by the type of service or facility being sought—and lists other appropriate sources of information and resource data currently available from UCS and other organizations.

Copies of the directory may be ordered, postpaid ($5.25 per copy) from the UCS Information Desk, 14 Somerset Street, Boston 02108.

usually identified with the schools. The objective is to extend services and broaden service clientele without substantial increases in administrative costs and capital outlay for buildings and centers. In Boston a tie-in with new school building programs seems to be the answer.

Accompanied by Mr. Fuller, Dr. Manley talked with officials of the Educational Planning Center of the Boston School Department, where progress of the thirty-six new schools in the department's building program was described. The schools will cost $300 million, and will open as community schools. The program is under the direction of the Educational Planning Center and the city's Public Facilities Department. UCS and several of its member agencies are working closely with administrators and educators to develop concepts which Dr. Manley describes as "new and exciting precedents in education."

Viewed with "particular interest" were plans for the inner city's Quincy-Lincoln School. UCS has been working with the School Department, Tufts New England Medical Center, the Public Facilities Department, the YMCA, the Parks and Recreation Department, and the Boston Public Library in the planning and organization of the school. Built in 1847, the Quincy School then was considered revolutionary because it was the first fully graded school in which pupils were classified by age and assigned to equal-sized groups in identical classrooms. As a community school, the Quincy School will be among the first to open with ungraded classes.

Dr. Manley was further impressed with plans for Madison Park High School, which features integration of public and voluntary social services "to serve the whole man" in the educational process. In Brighton he became acquainted with the cooperative efforts of the Brighton-Allston Area Planning Action Council, the district school superintendent, William Miller, and

Temporary Parking Allowed at V.A. Clinic

Mayor Kevin White announced on November 23 that the city's Traffic and Parking Department will allow vehicles to stop outside the Veterans Administration Clinic on Court Street in order to drop off and pick up patients.

local citizens, with UCS as a convening agent.

With Dr. Demone and Dr. John Gibson, director of the Lincoln-Filene Center at Tufts, and members of the UCS Community Education Committee, he reviewed the UCS-Tufts proposal to cultivate a stronger community orientation in school personnel.

Dr. Manley is anxious to see Boston share its ideas and experience with other communities throughout the nation. This may be accomplished, in part, when a delegation, including Mr. Fuller of UCS, attends the annual conference of the National Community School Education Association in Phoenix in December. Dr. Manley is a founding member of the Association, and Mr. Fuller is a member of its Board of Directors.

The Mayor said the following arrangements were worked out with the Veterans Administration in order to facilitate the use of the clinic by patients who are partially or fully immobile without impeding the flow of traffic in the area.

The new policy will be as follows:

The city's enforcement division will honor vehicle placards which state that the car or taxicab is being used to deliver a wheelchair patient to the clinic. It will permit the vehicle to park while delivering a patient between the signs on Court Street which say "Reserved for V.A. Ambulances" and in the block on the right-hand side of Court Street between Franklin Avenue and Cambridge Street. All other vehicles will be subject to towing and/or ticketing in these areas.

The placards will be issued and controlled by the V.A. office.

In a related move, the "Tow Zone No Standing" restriction has been removed from the widened section of Court Street from Franklin Avenue to Cambridge Street from 7 to 9:30 A.M. to allow commercially registered vehicles to load and unload in that area also.

Parking Permits Available at City Hall

Strict enforcement of the two-hour parking limit throughout the city will begin on December 1, it was announced by Mayor Kevin White on November 24.

Only residents who display the official City of Boston parking permit on the rear window of their vehicles will be exempt from the two-hour restriction.

In urging all residents to obtain the sticker, Mayor White noted that only about 15 percent of the 210,000 eligible motorists have done so in the first three months of the program. Enforcement of the two-hour limit will be strict, particularly in densely populated areas such as the North End, Allston, Beacon Hill, and the Back Bay, he said.

While the permit program aims to provide additional parking space for Boston residents near their homes, it does not guarantee a space or provide an exemption from any regulation other than the two-hour limit.

The parking permits are available at all Little City Halls and at City Hall, Room 243, upon presentation of a motor vehicle registration certificate verifying a Boston address.

As of November 20, 30,275 permits had been issued as follows:

Charlestown Seniors Enjoy Thanksgiving Dinner

More than 200 Charlestown Seniors, plus guests, attended an excellent Thanksgiving Dinner on November 19 at St. Catherine's Hall, Charlestown. Generous donations from numerous Charlestown civic and fraternal organizations made the full-course dinner possible, Mrs. Dorothea Connolly, Director of Senior Activities for Charlestown's Kennedy Center, pointed out.

A talk on nutrition, medical care, and the avoidance of accidents, to which elderly people are prone, is given at the Senior Lounge of the Kennedy Center, 138 Medford Street, on the first Wednesday of every month at 1:30 P.M. by Miss Catherine Delaney, a nurse on the staff of the Bunker Hill Health Center, affiliated with Massachusetts General Hospital.

The Kennedy Center's monthly hot lunch was held October 21. The meal was prepared by Mrs. Joanne Dineen and Mrs. Henrietta Murray, surplus food neighborhood representatives from Action for Boston Community Development (ABCD). These ladies specialize in demonstrating the best techniques for preparing nutritious well-balanced meals from surplus food.

On October 8 ninety people filled two buses for a foliage viewing trip to Keene, New Hampshire, and the beautiful Monadnock region. "Everyone thoroughly enjoyed themselves and the color was superb," Mrs. Connolly reported.

Registry Recovers Stolen Cars

Registrar Richard E. McLaughlin, President of Region I, AAMVA, said on November 20 that information recently made available by the FBI's National Crime Information Center has enabled the Registry of Motor Vehicles Special Investigation Unit to recover thirteen stolen Cadillacs in a one-week period in the City of Boston.

Vehicle identification numbers of 19,000 Cadillacs stolen in various states were fed into a computer, which matched the numbers with 289 Cadillacs registered in Massachusetts. The Special Investigation Unit, directed by Supervisor Carl Catalano, quickly began a search for these vehicles. With thirteen recovered in one week, the investigation has now spread to other Massachusetts communities.

"Our first target was the long list of stolen Cadillacs," McLaughlin said, "but I intend to continue to conduct an intensive search for all makes of stolen vehicles in the Commonwealth as soon as necessary information is available, and I would hope that other states will do the same."

"We are determined that those responsible for stealing, fraud, and accepting stolen goods will be apprehended and punished. We shall continue this investigation in Massachusetts until a check has been made on all stolen vehicles."

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without public advertising, based on the following communications:

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES DEPARTMENT

Purchasing Division RECORDER

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Invitation to bid on proposals for furnishing one (1) Simultrace Recorder, No. 237, to the Boston City Hospital was advertised in the City Record. Subsequently, bids were to be publicly opened and read in this office on September 8, 1970, but none were received. However, Electronics for Medicine, Inc., submitted both copies of their bid in the Auditing Department, thus making it irregular.

Authority is requested to dispense with further advertising and award a contract, without public advertisement, to Electronics for Medicine, Inc., at the prices submitted on their bid and as indicated on the accompanying tabulation.

The amount of the contract is not to exceed $14,899, net, 30 days.

Respectfully yours,

KEVIN P. FEELEY,
Purchasing Agent.

DRUGS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Invitation to bid on proposals for furnishing drugs, No. 248, to the Department of Health and Hospitals was advertised in the City Record. Subsequently, bids received were publicly opened and read in this office.

The bid submitted by Beecham Pharmaceutical Division of Beecham, Inc., the lowest responsible and eligible bidder, was irregular because no bid was received in this office. Authority is therefore requested to dispense with further advertising and award a contract, without public advertisement, to this company. The amount of the contract is not to exceed $136,305, net, 30 days.

Respectfully yours,
KEVIN P. FEELEY,
Purchasing Agent.

RENTAL OF COPYING MACHINES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Authority is requested to award a contract, without public advertisement, to Dennison Manufacturing Company, Copier Division, for the continuation of the rental of copying machines located throughout City Hall for the period from April 1, 1970, to December 31, 1970, inclusive.

This request is based on the award of the original contract which resulted from a survey that had been conducted and also the fact that this company offers the greatest cost advantage to the city.

The amount of the contract is not to exceed $33,000, net.

Respectfully yours,
KEVIN P. FEELEY,
Purchasing Agent.

SALES REGISTER

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Purchasing Division is in receipt of a requisition from Traffic and Parking for two Sweda International Sales registers to be used in the tow program operation.

These registers are manufactured only by Sweda International, a Division of Litton Industries. A formal quotation has been received from the company.

Permission is requested to award a contract without advertising to Sweda International, Inc., Division of Litton Industries.

Total amount of contract not to exceed $3,718.74, net.

Respectfully yours,
KEVIN P. FEELEY,
Purchasing Agent.

ASSESSING DEPARTMENT

DEAR SIR:

I hereby respectfully request your permission to dispense with the usual form of advertising to award a contract to the Coleman Bookbinding Corporation, 363 Albany Street, Boston, Mass., for the binding of 117 real estate books, 39 for the Collector, 39 for the Assessors, and 39 for use as a public copy, at $28 per book, or $3,276, and 46 personal property books, 23 for the Collector and 23 for the Assessing Department, at $27.50 per book, or $1,265, making a grand total of $4,541.

Coleman's have been doing this work for this department for many years, and the work has always been satisfactory.

Very truly yours,
THEODORE V. ANZALONE,
Commissioner of Assessing.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT AND INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION

PRINTING OF BOOKLETS

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

Your permission is requested to dispense with advertising and to award a contract to Regal Lithograph Company, Inc., for the printing of 1,000 copies of a booklet entitled "Boston's Industry" and 1,000 copies of a second booklet entitled "Boston's Jobs and Land." The cost to the city for both of these books will not exceed $12,500.

This request is based upon the desire of the Boston Economic Development and Industrial Commission to publish a detailed evaluation of its personal interviews with 309 of the city's manufacturing firms, with more than twenty employees, and a careful analysis of the condition of Boston's economy. As the commission's professional staff just completed its work on these publications and they must be delivered in less than three weeks, this request seems justified. I have thoroughly investigated firms within the City of Boston which handle commercial printing, and I have concluded, on the basis of this investigation, the Regal Lithograph Company, Inc., is the only firm which will meet our deadline at a price within the amount specified above.

On the basis of the foregoing, I respectfully submit that no advantage would be gained by publicly advertising this contract. Thus, I ask that you present this award to Regal Lithograph Company, Inc.

Your honoring this request will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,
J. KINNEY O'ROURKE,
Director.

HEALTH AND HOSPITALS DEPARTMENT

DEAR SIR:

At a meeting of the Board of Health and Hospitals on March 25, 1970, it was noted to renew the contract with Mohawk Data Sciences Corporation, 400 Lotten Pond Road, Waltham, for the rental of previously installed key tape data processing equipment for the Management Information Services Division of the Board of Health and Hospitals for the period April 1, 1970, through March 31, 1971, at a cost not to exceed $13,250.

Inasmuch as this corporation was the low bidder on this contract last year, and inasmuch as this equipment has proved satisfactory and suitable to the needs of the Management Information Services Division, it would seem that no benefit would be derived from publicly advertising.

Therefore, your permission is respectfully requested to award this contract, without advertising, under the terms and for the period stated above.

Very truly yours,
ANDREW P. SACKETT, M.D.,
Commissioner.

THE MAYOR'S OFFICE Council on Drug Abuse OFFICE AND STAFF SALARIES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Coordinating Council on Drug Abuse hereby respectfully requests written permission from your Honor to dispense with inviting proposals by advertisement in the City Record in awarding a contract to the East Boston Social Center, Inc., 68 Central Square, East Boston, on behalf of the East Boston Drug Action Committee, to conduct ongoing public education and information programs regarding drug abuse at a cost not to exceed $3,600 for a period from October 1, 1970, to December 31, 1970.

The East Boston Drug Action Committee will be operating a referral and information center whose primary function will be prevention through education. The proposed contract will provide funds for office space for the committee, and pay for a full- and part-time staff member.

Since the proposed contract is professional in character, no useful purpose would be served by inviting bids by advertisement.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. BREAY,
Executive Secretary.

MODEL CITY ADMINISTRATION TOPOGRAPHIC SURVEYS

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

We hereby request your approval to award a contract for services in an amount not to exceed $10,000 to Mr. Jack Nazar, 495 Summer Street, Boston, Mass.

The contract is for a four-month period. The contractor shall prepare topographic surveys of certain designated land surrounding the proposed Brunswick Gardens project. The contractor shall also prepare street design, including the design of utilities, water, sewers, power lines, and the like for the street that is to be constructed between the project and existing city streets. It is requested that this contract be awarded without advertising because the contractor, through his work with the developer of the project, has acquired unique expertise concerning the characteristics of the property.

Award of this contract is consistent with the city's grant contract with the Department of Housing and Urban Development, which provides that business concerns located in or owned in substantial part by residents of the Model Neighborhood are to be awarded contracts to the greatest extent feasible. For these aforementioned reasons it is requested that notice of the contract be dispensed from being advertised in the City Record.

Respectfully yours,
PAUL PARKS,
Administrator.

AMENDMENTS TO ORIGINAL AWARDS OF DAMAGES

The Mayor and Public Improvement Commission have approved the following:

That the amount of $50 be, and the same hereby is, awarded to Nathan Karlin for all damages sustained under the order of the Public Improvement Commission and Mayor of September 18, 1968, for the laying out and construction of Sunset Hill Road, West Roxbury district, from West Roxbury Parkway approximately 760 feet southeasterly.

Mayor Seeks Federal Funds for CIP Expansion

Mayor Kevin White asked the City Council's Urban Renewal Committee on November 25 to approve an application for federal funds to allow the city to expand its Community Improvement Program (CIP) to four additional neighborhoods. The committee, which received the application in July, held a hearing on the matter on November 27.

The program, which has been operating in Jamaica Plain and Fields Corner for the past eighteen months, has provided homeowners in those areas with almost $1 million in federal home improvement grants and loans.

Additional federal funding would expand the program to sections of Allston-Brighton, South Boston, Roslindale, and Dorchester. It would mean that homeowners of the new areas, which include 32,000 dwelling units, would be eligible for $5 million in outright federal home improvement grants and 3 percent federal loans anticipated to total $50 million.

The federal funding would also include $7 million for public improvements in the four areas, including new streets, sidewalks, and street lighting.

"The housing shortage in Boston and across the country is acute," Mayor White said. "Until the federal government can afford to provide massive aid to cities for the construction of new housing, we must preserve our present housing stock. Through the Community Improvement Program we can prevent entire neighborhoods from deteriorating by helping the average homeowner fix up his home."

During the eighteen months of operation in Jamaica Plain and Fields Corner the program has provided $396,000 in grants and more than $500,000 in low-interest loans for area residents.

Work on a $1.4 million in public improvements for these two areas will begin this spring.

Any homeowner in a CIP area is eligible for a 3 percent home improvement loan regardless of income. Outright grants are available to a homeowner whose income is less than $3,000 a year or who spends more than 25 percent of his income on housing.

Drugs Text Published

The first comprehensive survey covering the side effects and toxicities of drugs used in the treatment of mental diseases has been published under the authorship of Richard I. Shader, M.D., Associate Professor of Psychiatry at Harvard, and Albert DiMascio, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Psychiatry at Tufts University. The text was written with the cooperation of their associates at Harvard Medical School, Tufts School of Medicine, the Massachusetts Mental Health Center, and the Boston State Hospital.

The book "Psychotropic Drug Side Effect" also is concerned with the interactions of the psychotropic drugs with other drugs or medicines which patients may be taking for the treatment of physical ills.

Memorial Proposed for Late Cardinal Cushing

Mayor Kevin White announced on November 30 a joint venture of the city and the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Boston to erect a memorial to the late Richard Cardinal Cushing for his many years of service and dedication to all the people of Boston.

The exact location of the memorial will be determined by a committee headed by the Most Reverend Jeremiah F. Minihan, Senior Auxiliary Bishop of Boston. Mayor White and the Most Reverend Humberto S. Medeiros, Archbishop of Boston, will serve as honorary co-chairmen of the committee. City Council President Gabriel F. Piemonte will be a member of the committee.

The city will provide the site selected by the committee for the memorial, a statue of the late Cardinal. The memorial will be paid for by private subscription.

In making the announcement, Mayor White said: "Rarely in the history of the Roman Catholic Church has any one priest so forcefully dominated the intellectual and moral life of his community and his church. In his own city Cardinal Cushing was a healing force in the unending crusade to unite people of different races and religions."

"The memorial will be located in a section of the city normally visited by both residents and tourists, so that all who have occasion to come to Boston can share with the people of our city in memorializing Cardinal Cushing's dedication and affection for all mankind."

Mrs. Dorothy Curran

Appointed

Boston Parks and Recreation Commissioner Joseph E. Curtis announced on November 24 the appointment of veteran Parks and Recreation employee Mrs. Dorothy Curran as administrative assistant to the department.

Mrs. Curran, who began her twenty-year career with Parks and Recreation as a receptionist in the Jamaica Plain Pinebank Recreation Building, assumes the administrative assistant position effective immediately.

In announcing the appointment, Commissioner Curtis said: "I am pleased to appoint a staff member of the caliber of Mrs. Curran to this important position.

"For years she has served not only this department but the City of Boston through her diligent efforts toward bringing better recreation and administration to this department."

During her tenure with Parks and Recreation Mrs. Curran has become involved with community relations in every section of the city and has developed close contacts with citizen groups in order to discuss recreation needs.

the present agreement, that is, for the payment by the Authority of $135,810 for passenger service through the end of the year. In addition, the Authority will continue the payment of up to $10,000 for another month for roadway maintenance and repairs.

PWD Geared for Major Snowstorms

Public Works Commissioner Joseph F. Casazza announced on December 1, that the city's snow emergency center, which coordinates the activities of several municipal departments, is ready to move into operation with the first major snowfall of the season.

Casazza urged residents who require assistance or want to register a complaint during a snow emergency not to call the district offices of the Public Works Department. Those telephones will be answered by a recording, and the caller will be advised to dial the storm emergency center at 722-4530.

The center, formerly located at Fire Department Headquarters, was shifted last year to Boston Civil Defense offices on the first floor of City Hall. The center goes into operation when conditions warrant.

Telephone calls to the center for assistance or complaint will be channeled to the proper municipal department or public utility. The center operates round the clock for the duration of a snow emergency. The central number, 722-4530, serves to prevent plugging of switchboards of the operating departments, which, on occasion, have been unable to function properly because of the flood of incoming calls, the commissioner said.

Under the immediate direction of Deputy Public Works Commissioner John F. Flaherty, the center is staffed by a minimum of twenty-three persons on two twelve-hour shifts. The staff includes representatives of the Traffic and Parking, Fire, and Police Departments, Civil Defense, MBTA, and Public Works. In addition, representatives of the utility companies are on call.

As calls are received in the center, requests for emergency assistance or complaints are relayed to the appropriate department representative or Public Works yard by typewriter, radio, or telephone hot line.

The Public Works Department has ready 80 salt spreaders and 375 heavy duty trucks (125 city-owned and 250 contractors-owned) for plowing, Casazza said. Each plow will be assigned a specific route. If an emergency arises, such as need for an ambulance, a plow will be rerouted or special equipment will be sent to provide access.

HEALTH AND LIFE INSURANCE RATES-1971

To Department Heads and County Officers.

Attention: Payroll Clerks

Effective January 1, 1971, the new overall rates for the "Major Medical" program of Blue Cross-Blue Shield and Life Insurance will be:

Blue Cross-Blue Shield, individual, $19.37; Blue Cross-Blue Shield, family, $53.65; (Boston Mutual) Life Insurance, $1.05 per thousand, active; $1 per thousand, retired.

This means the active employees deduction starting December, 1970, for January of 1971, for "Major Medical" Blue Cross-Blue Shield and Life Insurance (Boston Mutual) will be:

Individual, $10.74 per month, $3.58 weekly; family, $27.87 per month, $9.29 weekly.

For retired employees starting December, 1970, for January, 1971, for "Major Medical" Blue Cross-Blue Shield and Life Insurance (Boston Mutual), individual, $10.18 per month; family, $27.33 per month.

The O. M. E. (or Medex) rate will be $10.37.

Basic Life Insurance rates remained the same (see above).

Optional Life Insurance rates were reduced; 1971 rates are as follows: $.35 per thousand, under forty years of age; $.65 per thousand, ages forty through forty-nine; $1.30 per thousand, ages fifty through fifty-nine; $2.30 per thousand, ages sixty and over.

Brochures explaining program may be had by contacting Room 267, City Hall, 722-4100, Extension 200.

Payrolls for the first week of December will reflect the present rate of deduction. For those in the "Major Medical" program, either "Individual" or "Family," the second week's deduction will reflect the new weekly deduction (1971 rate) plus an adjustment for the first week.

Payroll clerks will be expected to make the necessary changes on their rolls for those in O. M. E. (or Medex) program.

Director, Health Insurance Unit.

"Bob" Aldrich, their fellow reporter who represents the Record American-Sunday Advertiser in the Press Room in City Hall. Mrs. Aldrich died in Lowell on Thursday, November 26.

Known as a kindly and thoughtful person, she was always ready to lend a helping hand to those in need. Her passing is a great loss to those who were fortunate in knowing her. Mrs. Aldrich and her husband, Robert, resided at 22 Edison Avenue, Medford. Her survivors include her husband, Robert; a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy St. Germain of Lawrence; a son, Randy L. Hansen of Dover, Delaware; three brothers, Paul J., George S., and Robert, all of Lowell; two sisters, Mrs. W. Richard Bernard and Miss Blanche MacInnes of Lawndale, California; and six grandchildren.

The funeral was held Monday, November 30, from the Robert Morse Funeral Home in Lowell. Interment was in Edison Cemetery, Lowell. The services were attended by a large delegation representing the news media, members of the Boston City Council, department heads, City Hall employees, and friends. May her soul rest in peace.

DIRECTIVE NO. 20 SERVICE ORDERS AND PUR- CHASING AND CONTRACT PROCEDURES

To All Department Heads.

As several inquiries have been received during the past few months as to the proper procedures to be followed in the purchasing of supplies, materials, and equipment and the issuance of service orders for contractual services where total costs involved range between $500 and $2,000, I am submitting below the standard procedures which have been in effect for several years and which continue to be in effect until you are otherwise advised:

1. Invitation bids must be requested in all such cases from at least three reputable contractors experienced in the type of work involved, or suppliers who are regular dealers in the commodities required. A copy of the invitation showing the names of the three contractors to whom invitations were sent, shall be forwarded to the City Auditor.

2. Coincidentally, with the sending of the above-referenced invitation to the three bidders, a general invitation to bid must be posted on the Bulletin Board located on the first-floor lobby of City Hall.

3. In general, the same procedure will be followed for invitation bids as is followed for publicly advertised proposals, that is, specifications must be prepared and a definite time, date, and place for opening the bids must be included in the invitations.

4. The time for opening the bids should be established so that not less than three business days shall intervene after posting the notice referred to in Rule 2.

5. The above requirements may be waived by the Director of Administrative Services only when it is impossible to obtain competitive bids or where the exigencies of a situation will not permit of the delay incident to following the procedure outlined above.

6. Approval for waiving the procedure will be granted only after a written request of the department head which includes a detailed statement of the adequate reasons therefor.

7. All departments must use the standard invitation bid and award form which has been designed for this purpose.

Directing the attention of your employees to the above procedures will reduce the number of inquiries directed to this office and should clarify to the satisfaction of all concerned the standards established for handling business of this nature.

EDWARD T. SULLIVAN.

CONTRACTS AMENDED

The Mayor has approved amendments to contracts awarded based on the following communications:

HEALTH AND HOSPITALS DEPARTMENT DRUG TESTING

SIR:

At a meeting of the Board of Health and Hospitals on July 8, 1960, it was voted to award a contract to Auto-Lab, Inc., of Arlington, for the testing of drugs in connection with the "Turn-Off" program for the period July 1, 1970, through September 30, 1970, at a cost not to exceed $15,000.

Said contract was approved by your Honor on July 30, 1970, in the amount of $10,000, inasmuch as the director of the program anticipated that this sum would be sufficient.

As Commissioner of Health and Hospitals, and in accordance with the authority delegated to me by the Board of Health and Hospitals at its meeting of June 6, 1970, I do hereby authorize amending this contract between the City of Boston and Auto-Lab, Inc., by extending the period of said contract to October 31, 1970, and increasing the amount of the contract to $15,000.

As this is the only laboratory in the greater Boston area that is currently capable of urinalysis testing to detect the presence of methadone and other drugs, your permission is respectfully requested to amend this contract under the terms stated above.

Very truly yours,
ANDREW P. SACKETT, M.D.,
Commissioner.

SIR:

At a meeting of the Board of the Department of Health and Hospitals on August 12, 1970, it was voted that the contract with New England Medical Center, approved by the Board on June 3, 1970, be amended to provide funds to enable the audiologist to increase her working time from twenty hours to thirty hours per week. The total increase amounts to $2,440 beginning August 15, 1970, and extending to the termination of the contract on March 31, 1971.

Your permission is respectfully requested to amend this contract under the terms stated above.

Very truly yours,
ANDREW P. SACKETT, M.D.,
Commissioner.

SIR:

At a meeting of the Board of the Department of Health and Hospitals on August 12, 1970, it was voted to amend the city's contract for laboratory services (testing water and other items) with Herbert V. Shuster, Inc., for the period April 1, 1969, through March 31, 1970, by increasing the amount of the contract from $3,505.68 to $3,713.62 in order that the Shuster Corporation may be reimbursed for the performance of extra work in connection with pollution in Boston Harbor, requested by the Department of Health and Hospitals, Community Health Division.

Your permission is respectfully requested to amend this contract under the terms stated above.

Very truly yours,
ANDREW P. SACKETT, M.D.,
Commissioner.

DEAR SIR:

At a meeting of the Board of Health and Hospitals of the City of Boston on July 22, 1970, it was voted to enter into a contract with the Trustees of Health and Hospitals for a four-month period, under which the Trustees will provide the services of professional registered ADA dietitians for Boston City Hospital.

In a letter to your Honor dated August 5, 1970, the period of this contract was stated as being from September 1, 1970, through December 31, 1971.

May I therefore request that this letter of August 5, 1970, be amended to read as follows: "The period of this contract is from September 1, 1970, through December 31, 1970."

Very truly yours,
ANDREW P. SACKETT, M.D.,
Commissioner.

DEAR SIR:

At a meeting of the Board of Health and Hospitals of the City of Boston on July 29, 1970, it was voted that the contract with Boston University School of Medicine, authorized by the Board on May 6, 1970, be amended to include the following positions for the period July 1, 1970, through March 31, 1971, at the yearly salaries listed:

Assistant Director, Pediatrics, OPD, John Gould, $9,500.

Associate Director, Orthopedics, Robert E. Leach, $16,000.

Assistant Director, Ophthalmology, Howard Liebowitz, $12,000.

We respectfully request your permission to amend the contract under the terms stated above.

Very truly yours,
JAMES V. SACCHETTI, M.D.,
Acting-Commissioner.

DEAR SIR:

At a meeting of the Board of Health and Hospitals on July 22, 1970, it was voted that the contract between the Board and Boston University School of Medicine for the period September 1, 1969, through March 31, 1970, for the services of Dr. Gerald Hass as full-time Chief of Pediatric Ambulatory Services at Boston City Hospital in the amount of $12,500, be amended to increase the amount of said contract to $13,250, thereby correcting a clerical error and increasing the total cost to the city to $128,350.

Inasmuch as the contract was approved by your Honor on June 20, 1969, we respectfully request your permission to amend the contract under the terms stated above.

Very truly yours,
ANDREW P. SACKETT, M.D.,
Commissioner.

DEAR SIR:

At a meeting of the Board of Health and Hospitals on July 22, 1970, it was voted that the amount of funds allocated by the Board in Contract with Computer Usage Corporation, approved by the Board on March 25, 1970, be increased by an amount not to exceed One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty Dollars ($1,920) for the services of Mrs. Betsy Greytak. Due to an increase in the hourly rate under this contract from the previous contract and because of a heavier demand on Mrs. Greytak's time, which conditions have caused a faster than anticipated depletion of funds, this extension is deemed necessary.

We therefore respectfully request your permission to amend the contract under the terms stated above.

Very truly yours,
ANDREW P. SACKETT, M.D.,
Commissioner.

DEAR SIR:

At a meeting of the Board of Health and Hospitals of the City of Boston on July 29, 1970, it was voted that the contract with the Trustees of Lesley College, authorized by this Board on March 4, 1970, for the period April 1, 1970, through March 31, 1971, be amended to provide child-play instructors and the necessary consultation and supervision for the Child-Play Program and the Day-Care Center Program by increasing the amount of said contract to a sum not to exceed $30,745.

1. Creation of new position of Day-Care Unit Chief, effective July 1, 1970, at a yearly salary ceiling of $15,000. This person shall direct, coordinate, and supervise the Day-Care Consultation and Licensing Program.
2. Approved salary increases.
3. Increased fringe benefits (Medical Insurance-Master Medical).

We respectfully request your permission to amend this contract under the terms stated above.

Very truly yours,
ANDREW P. SACKETT, M.D.,
Commissioner.

PUBLIC FACILITIES DEPARTMENT FANEUIL HALL MARKET BUILDING RENOVATIONS

DEAR SIR:

On July 23, 1970, your Honor authorized the award, following receipt of my earlier letter of July 15, 1970, based on a Public Facilities Commission vote of July 14, 1970, of an unadvertised contract to F. A. Stahl, Inc., and Architectural Heritage, Inc., both being Massachusetts corporations, associated together as joint venturers under the name and style of F. A. Stahl, Architectural Heritage Association, with offices at 3 South Market Street, Boston, for architectural and engineering services in preparing design development drawings, basic outline specifications, and construction cost estimates for use in the renovations of the Faneuil Hall Market Building, at a cost for such services of $24,950 (including $2,500 for supplementary services).

On September 22, 1970, the Public Facilities Commission amended its said original vote of July 14, 1970, by substituting the name Stahl Associates, a division of Stahl Bennett, Inc., a Massachusetts corporation, with a usual place of business at 177 Milk Street, Boston, as the awardee of the proposed subject contract in place of the above-named awardee, as appearing in the original letter of award, and at the same cost for the identical services.

I now request that my said earlier letter of July 15, 1970, as approved by your Honor on July 23, 1970, may now be considered as hereby amended in accordance with the foregoing.

Respectfully,
ROBERT T. KENNEY,
Director.

TRAFFIC AND PARKING DEPARTMENT TRAFFIC COUNTS

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

Your approval is respectfully requested to amend the contract with Planning, Engineering, and Development, a Massachusetts consulting engineer, sole proprietorship, having an office at 5 King Philip Path, Hingham, Mass., to collect certain traffic counts for the Traffic and Parking Department by increasing the maximum contractual amount of the contract by $10,000.

Due to the large increase in requests for improved traffic controls, i.e., signals and stop signs, we have now expended the total amount of the original contract for the collection of supporting documentation in order to obtain State Department of Public Works approvals. I cannot foresee, nor do I expect, that the rate of requests for this information will materially diminish during the remainder of the year.

This proposal retains the existing contractual consultant's charges for the period April 1, 1970, to March 31, 1971. In view of the very technical nature of the services involved no useful purpose would, in my opinion, be served by publicly advertising for bids.

Yours truly,
WILLIAM R. MCGRATH,
Commissioner.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT

SNOW REMOVAL

For removing snow in all districts of the city, awarded as follows (except from letter to the Mayor from the Commissioner of Public Works):

In Area 1, District 1C, the following bid was received:

Mario Susi & Sons, Inc., and Frank Frederick Construction Company (joint venture), $199,260.

The above company was also the only bidder in District 3, and, as they have performed the work in this district for the past years and are capable of providing for only one district, they were awarded the contract for District 3.

The York Construction Company has performed the work in District 1C for the last two years satisfactorily; therefore I request your approval to dispense with further public advertising and award a contract to the York Construction Company of 34 Darrell Drive, Randolph, Mass., at the unit prices bid for this district by the only bidder.

In Area 2, District 6, the following bids were received:

James Paul Construction Company, $86,660; Mario Susi & Sons, Inc., and Frank Frederick Construction Company (joint venture), $106,440; Sylvester A. Ray, $125,640.

The low bidder was also low bidder in District 8 and was awarded the contract for District 8.

The second low bidder was the only bidder in District 3 and was awarded the contract for District 3.

I have negotiated with the third bidder, Sylvester A. Ray, and he has agreed to accept the contract for District 6 at the same or lower unit prices than he bid. Accordingly your permission is requested to dispense with further public advertising and award a contract to Sylvester A. Ray of Clay Pit Road, Marshfield, Mass., at an estimated cost of $108,880.

In Area 3, District 7, Dorchester, no bids were received.

I have negotiated with the South Shore Paving Company, who were third bidders in District 5, to perform the work in District 7. They have agreed to enter into a contract for doing this work at the unit prices they bid for the work in District 5. Accordingly I request your approval to dispense with further public advertising and to award a contract to the South Shore Paving Company of 24 Lufbery Street, Milton, Mass., to perform the work in District 7 at the unit prices they bid for District 5.

In Area 2, District 4, Brighton, no bids were received.

I have negotiated with Grandview Contracting, Inc., the third low bidder in District 8, to perform a portion of the work required in District 4. Therefore I request your approval to dispense with public advertising and award a contract to the Grandview Contracting, Inc., of 30 Grandview Street, Roslindale, Mass., for the work in District 4 at the same unit prices they bid for the work in District 8, at an estimated cost of $40,460.

I have also negotiated with the John P. Smith Landscape Construction and General Contracting Company to perform a portion of the work required in District 4. They were tied for low bid in District 8 and second low bidder in District 2. Because District 4 in Brighton is farther from their garage than the districts on which they bid, I have arrived at unit prices that are higher than their bid prices for the other districts but which I consider fair and reasonable for this work. Therefore I request your approval to dispense with public advertising and to award a contract to the John P. Smith Landscape Construction and General Contracting Company of 9 Forbes Avenue, Norwood, Mass., for the work in a portion of District 4 at an estimated cost of $40,130.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor has approved the awarding of contracts without public advertising, based on the following communications:

LAW DEPARTMENT POLICE-COMMUNITY PROGRAM

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

I hereby request your approval to award a contract without advertising in an amount of $30,000 to "My Friend the Policeman, Inc." a Massachusetts corporation with a principal place of business at 14 Eliot Square, Roxbury. The purpose of the contract is to provide for the continuing operation and evaluation of a program in various police districts throughout the city.

To my knowledge there is no other program in the United States comparable to this one. With the support and full cooperation of the Boston Police Commissioner, the corporation has successfully commenced and operated this police-community program on a limited basis for over three years. The purpose of the present contract is to provide for expansion of the program.

Sincerely,

JOHN A. FISKE, Chairman,
Coordinating Committee for the Administration of Justice.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

We hereby request your approval to award a contract without advertising in an amount not to exceed $9,850 to J. Russell Tillman, doing business as Octavia Productions, 224 Seaver Street, Roxbury, Mass., for participating in the development of a program for better police-community relations in the Model Cities area, with particular emphasis on public relations and the production of a film of the Model Cities Police-Community Relations Program. The Model City Administration has entered into a memorandum of understanding with the Coordinating Committee for the Administration of Justice which provides that the Model City police-community relations program shall be conducted by the Coordinating Committee. It is pursuant to that memorandum of understanding that we write this letter.

Under the terms of the contract, Octavia Productions will advise the program director, Detective Arnold James, on the most effective use of films and other news media and will prepare two prints of a sound movie of the police-community relations program operated by the Coordinating Committee. It is particularly appropriate to select Octavia Productions in the light of the guidelines of the Housing and Urban Development Department which require that preference in hiring be given to residents and businesses of the Model City area. Because the personnel of Octavia Productions all live in this area and because they are intimately familiar with the details of the Model City police-community relations program, we recommend that public advertising be dispensed with in connection with this contract.

Sincerely,

JOHN A. FISKE, Chairman,
Coordinating Committee for the Administration of Justice.

PARKS AND RECREATION DEPARTMENT TRANSPORTATION

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Your permission is respectfully requested to dispense with inviting proposals by advertisement in the City Record and to award a contract to Congress Taxi Association, Inc., 1890 Columbus Avenue, Boston, for providing transportation of physically handicapped and mentally retarded children in various Parks and Recreation Department recreation programs. The cost to the city will not exceed $10,000. The contract will be for the period June 15, 1969, to November 15, 1970.

As the proposed contract is to be one for the performance of services of a special nature which the contractor has properly performed for the city in the past, a public solicitation for bids would serve no useful purpose.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH E. CURTIS,
Commissioner.

PUBLIC FACILITIES DEPARTMENT MINOT-HEMENWAY REPLACEMENT SCHOOL

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Samuel Glaser and Partners, Architects, have duly performed their contract, executed with the City of Boston, October 3, 1969, for the preparation of preliminary studies, basic drawings, outline specifications and construction cost estimates for constructing the Minot-Hemenway Replacement School in the Dorchester district of the city.

Therefore, as recently authorized by the Public Facilities Commission, I hereby request of your Honor, in the name and on behalf of the Commission, formal written authorization to dispense with advertising in the city's official chronicle, the City Record, in awarding a contract to Samuel Glaser and Partners, Architects, a Massachusetts partnership, of 585 Boylston Street, Boston, to prepare the working drawings, detailed specifications, and construction cost estimates for, and to supervise the construction of, the aforesaid elementary school in the Dorchester district of Boston at a fee not to exceed $236,625, and upon receipt of such authority to execute said contract in the name and on behalf of the Commission.

The architect's fee, taken from A. I. A. 1967 recommended schedule of minimum "B" rates, and based upon an estimated cost of construction of $6,000,000, shall be at 5.44 percent of said estimated construction cost, less the sum of $89,775 paid to this firm under the prior contract with the partnership. The proposed contract will also provide for currently estimated needs for supplementary services by the architect, at an added cost of $72,000. The maximum liability of the City of Boston under the new contract is to be $308,625.

Since the services which have been furnished to date by the architect, as well as the services which are to be carried out under the provisions of the proposed new contract, are professional in character, it is considered that public advertising therefor could serve no useful purpose.

Respectfully,

ROBERT T. KENNEY,
Director.

DOWNTOWN HIGH SCHOOL

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

I hereby request of your Honor, for and on behalf of the Public Facilities Commission, written permission to dispense with public advertising in the City Record in awarding a contract to Colletti Brothers, Architects, a Massachusetts partnership, with offices at 10 Industrial Park Road, Hingham, for preparing plans, specifications, and construction cost estimates for and supervision of alterations and repairs to the Downtown High School (Bryant and Stratton Building), Boston, at a cost for these services of 11.5 percent of the currently estimated construction cost of $100,000, the cost of the proposed services not to exceed $29,500 (including $18,000 for supplementary services), and to execute such contract, in the name and on behalf of the Commission, upon receipt of said written authority from the Mayor. The aforesaid rate is derived from the A. I. A. 1967 Recommended Minimum "B" Rates Schedule.

In view of the dual circumstances that architectural services are attained at relatively uniform rates and are professional in character, public advertising for the same would achieve no useful purpose.

Respectfully,

ROBERT T. KENNEY,
Director.

CONSTRUCTION ACTIVITIES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Pursuant to the authorization given the undersigned so to do by the Public Facilities Commission on August 4, 1970, I hereby respectfully request your Honor's written permission, on behalf and in the name of that Board, to dispense with a public solicitation for competitive bids by advertising therefor in the City Record in awarding a contract to Mauchly Construction Management, Inc., a Delaware corporation, licensed to do business in this Commonwealth, with local offices at 15 Court Street, Boston, Mass., for scheduling and coordinating construction activities in connection with the construction of the new residential and parking facilities at Boston City Hospital, at a cost for such services of not to exceed $23,650, including $18,150 for services in thirty-three updatings of critical path criteria for and during construction; and to execute such contract, in the name and on behalf of the Commission, upon receipt of said written authority from the Mayor.

Our purpose in making arrangements for the subject services is to assure that occupancy and beneficial use of the project structure will be timely, by providing for an analysis of the materials affecting construction scheduling. Employment of the subject services will, it is believed, make certain the completion and operation of the projected facility in minimum time and at the lowest cost to the City of Boston.

In the light of the technical character of the services to be furnished under the provisions of the proposed contract, it does not appear that the city would benefit from the pursuit of the usual public advertising procedures in this instance.

Respectfully,

ROBERT T. KENNEY,
Director.

NO. 50

Mayor Submits 22-Bill Legislative Program

Mayor Kevin White on December 2 sent to Beacon Hill a 22-bill legislative program for consideration of the 1971 General Court, with the major emphasis directed at easing the financial burden of the city and its taxpayers.

Looking toward development of a new revenue source, he proposed establishment of a state corporation to regulate off-track betting similar to one created in New York City. The Mayor estimated that legalized off-track betting in Massachusetts would raise an additional $100 million annually for the cities and towns. The bill would give to each city and town the option of locating a state-operated betting office within its borders.

Under the plan the state would take 15 percent of the money wagered on flat (horse) racing and 17 percent from harness and dog racing for distribution to the local communities.

Mayor White noted: "This proposal is not intended to be a panacea. It will not solve all of the state's tax problems, but it will provide significant relief quickly to the already overburdened property taxpayer."

Carrying forward another proposal offered during the past campaign, he submitted legislation calling for a study of a state-backed loan program that would enable every qualified student, regardless of economic status, to attend the college of his choice.

In return, the student would be required to repay approximately 1 percent of his annual income over a 20- to 30-year period for each $3,000 borrowed. The program would be self-financing and would not involve annual state appropriations.

"Such a program is not directed solely at low-income families," the Mayor said. "The cost of a college education today is oftentimes beyond the means of a middle-income family, particularly those who have two and three children ready for college at the same time."

The Mayor also filed legislation which would require the state to assume the total cost of operating the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority. The MBTA deficit for the fiscal year ending December 31 will rise to $54.2 million, of which Boston's share will be $25.7 million — representing more than $15 on next year's tax rate. Present law provides for the deficit to be financed by the seventy-nine cities and towns in the MBTA district.

Several bills aimed at having the state assume obligations that are state-oriented in nature were also included in the package. One would transfer from the counties to the state the cost of administering courts and jails in the Commonwealth. Another would have the state assume the entire cost of caring for persons suffering from tuberculosis (the state now pays 50 percent), and a third bill would raise from 50 to 75 percent the state's reimbursement to the local communities for veterans' benefits.

The Mayor also asked the state to substantially increase its role in the provision of medical care by contributing to the cost of construction of hospitals, community health centers, and nursing schools.

He proposed a 1-cent increase in the state gasoline tax, with the additional revenue earmarked for the cities and towns to improve and maintain local roads.

Operation "Red Paint"

At the request of the Boston Fire Department, the Boston Traffic and Parking Department is painting red curb corner restrictions at various critical intersections on Beacon Hill in order to facilitate the movement of fire apparatus through these narrow areas.

Violators of the existing 20-foot corner restrictions have created serious obstacles and delays to the Fire Department in answering alarms. The red paint will emphasize this restriction, and violators will be subject to being towed away, effective December 7, 1970.

Residents and visitors are requested to cooperate in observing these regulations in the interest of public safety and convenience.

CITY RECORD DEADLINE

The City Record deadline for all copy and advertising is every Wednesday at twelve noon. Copy for the weeks of Christmas and New Year's deadline is Monday noon. Please cooperate.

New Christmas Seal Design

Some stamp collectors specialize in Christmas seals — seals from more than 100 different countries.

The Christmas Seal and Charity Stamps Association of the United States, founded in 1931, has 1,000 members. Thousands of amateurs also collect samples of the seals, which first appeared in this country in 1907 to help fight a terrible disease called the "White Plague," tuberculosis.

All the stamps to fight TB around the globe bear the international symbol of this pervasive struggle, the red double-barred cross of Lorraine. Seals from other lands come in all shapes and sizes and may feature such un-Christmasy art as tropical flowers (Ceylon), butterflies (Brazil), and ghosts (Denmark). Recent issues in Mexico have sported beautiful designs of ancient Indian art and magnificent native costumes. This year's American design features an entire town — an old-fashioned, fantasy town — and a horsedrawn holiday parade around the town square. Contributions to this year's Christmas seals help fight many more hazards than TB, though. They strike out at respiratory diseases, such as chronic bronchitis and emphysema, and at air pollution and smoking, two causes of disease of the lungs.

Last year nearly 40,000 new active cases of TB were found in the United States. An unknown number of people also have active disease without knowing it. And they spread it to others. Millions of Americans have one or more respiratory diseases. And 49,000,000 Americans still smoke. Many of them live in polluted cities. Christmas seals have their work cut out for them.

Use Christmas seals. It's a matter of life and breath.

Mayor's Program . . .

Noting that the people of Boston pay a disproportionate share of the costs of the Massachusetts Port Authority's operations, he asked the Legislature to prohibit the MPA from acquiring any further land without local consent; require the MPA to reimburse the city for fire services; and require the many MPA tenants, such as the airport motel and the airlines, to pay real estate taxes on the property they use for business purposes.

A related bill would require all state authorities to give the city the first right of refusal on surplus land owned by them within the city.

The Mayor filed bills which would:

- * * provide state aid for the purchase of existing buildings for school use;

- * * accelerate the foreclosure of tax titles by the Land Court;

- * * permit the city to borrow money for the reconstruction of bridges;

- * * increase from $500 to $1,000 the fine for oil pollution of Boston Harbor;

- * * require MBTA Advisory Board approval for capital commitments and contracts;

- * * abolish the requirement that Boston pay at least 30 percent of the costs of the MBTA's express service deficit;

- * * permit the arrest without a warrant of a person who commits a misdemeanor in the presence of a police officer;

- * * increase from $2,000 to $5,000 the exemption of contracts which may be awarded without competitive bidding.

Christmas Tree

Suggestion

Start a new Christmas tradition in your family by purchasing a Christmas tree which can be used again to give years of beauty and pleasure to residents of Boston neighborhoods, suggests Partners in Conservation, a cooperative effort of Summerthing and the Boston Parks and Recreation Department.

This year, instead of purchasing a cut tree for your Christmas tree, ask your local nursery for a tree that is balled (with root intact) and burlapped. During the holiday season keep the tree well watered and, when the holidays are over, notify Partners in Conservation, which will arrange to have your tree picked up and kept until the summer when the Summerthing Plantmobile will deliver it to a Boston neighborhood to help create a small park or other green area as part of the Partners in Conservation urban beautification program.

The most suitable trees for Christmas trees include Hatfield, hybrid, or spreading yews; scotch or Japanese black pine; Douglas, white, or balsam fir; Carolina or Canadian hemlock; and Norway, Serbian, or Colorado blue spruce. The most easily obtainable heights range from two to four feet.

When you are ready to have your tree picked up, call the Sierra Club at 868-9330 and ask for Kitty Swateck, or send a postcard to Sharon Weinstein, Boston Parks and Recreation Department, City Hall, Boston, Mass. 02201. The local chapter of the Sierra Club, a nationwide conservation organization, is assisting Partners in Conservation in the tree collection.

Partners in Conservation bases its projects on the premise that people, if provided with free materials and instructions, will experiment with the planting potentials of their neighborhoods' large and small open spaces and make them brighter and more pleasant places in which to live.

Let your Christmas tree become a Christmas present that will add permanent beauty to a Boston neighborhood.

New Recreational Facility for North End

Mayor Kevin White announced on December 9 that the city will convert to parkland a 5.4 acre tract in Boston's North End which will double the parkland in that section of the city. The new park will be the largest recreational facility in the North End, the Mayor said.

The city's Public Facilities Department will purchase the tract, which extends from the Charlestown Bridge to the Harbor Police Station, for $1 million. Half the cost will be financed by a grant from the Federal Department of Housing and Urban Development. Boston's City Council has appropriated matching funds.

The park will include a community center, softball field, tennis, basketball, and bocci courts, and a skating rink. Trees will be planted along the waterfront, and lighting and benches installed.

"A good recreational program and adequate recreational facilities are essential for the healthy development of our young people and to provide leisure-time activity for our adult community," Mayor White said. "This new park will provide the best in recreational facilities for North End residents of all ages."

DIRECTIVE NO. 21

REQUEST FOR PERMISSION TO AWARD CONTRACTS WITHOUT ADVERTISING

To Department Heads and County Officials.

It is customary and necessary, at various times, to remind city officials of the provisions of the City Charter which permit foregoing the usual requirements of advertising for bids in contracting for goods or services costing $2,000 and over.

Section 30 of the City Charter, which governs the transacting of such business, specifies that written authority of the Mayor is necessary to dispense with usual advertising. In order to comply with the provisions of this statute in a methodical and businesslike manner, all requests for permission to award or renew existing contracts without advertising should be forwarded to the Mayor's Office at least thirty (30) days prior to the effective dates of such contracts or contract renewals.

My attention has been directed to the fact that during the current year there have been cases where such requests were forwarded to the Mayor's Office subsequent to the effective dates of new contracts or renewals of existing contracts. This is not a proper procedure and should be corrected.

As we will be entering a new year within a month and many existing contracts are renewable early in the year, please instruct your contract clerk or clerks to carry out the requirements of the City Charter in accordance with the regulation set forth above.

EDWARD T. SULLIVAN,
Director.

New BRA Appointment

Mayor Kevin White announced on December 1, the nomination of Attorney Joseph J. Walsh of West Roxbury to be a member of the Boston Redevelopment Authority Board. Mr. Walsh will serve out the remainder of the unexpired term of Msgr. Francis J. Lally until September, 1971.

"Mr. Walsh is ably suited by education, by legal training, and by professional achievement to hold this important position on the BRA Board," Mayor White said. "I feel he will serve the public interest with the same mature judgment and sensitivity that marked Monsignor Lally's tenure on the Board."

"It will be a great pleasure to serve with Mayor White and with the administrators of the BRA," Walsh said. "I am enthusiastic about being associated with the commercial development that has made Boston one of the most progressive cities in the nation."

"I am in full agreement with the objective of the BRA to obtain a proper balance between commercial development and suitable housing for all Boston citizens."

"Walk In" Clinic at BCH

The Pediatric Walk-in Clinic at the Boston City Hospital is now available to give care to children twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week.

Dr. David Ingall, Acting Director of Pediatrics, announced that the present coverage of sixteen hours per day has been extended to twenty-four hours and began November 30 on a three-month trial basis. Night coverage is presently being given in the Main Emergency Floor.

The clinic is modern and fully equipped, with eight examining rooms, laboratory, minor surgery operating room, a five-bed overnight observation unit, and is adjacent to an X-ray unit specifically designed for pediatrics.

The Walk-in Clinic is in the basement of the Children's Building, which was completely modernized in 1968 at a cost of $1,200,000. This 128-bed facility is designed to take care of the total needs of sick children and includes modern research and clinical laboratories, playrooms, and accommodations for parents to stay overnight with their children when this is desired.

There is a scheduled Outpatient Clinic adjacent to the Walk-in Clinic. Here patients are seen by appointment for detailed examination and treatment. As well as general pediatric care there are clinics in the following pediatric specialties: neurology, cardiology, surgery, hematology, dermatology, genetics, problem newborn, and urinary tract infections. Plans for further expansion are currently being worked out.

The location of all pediatric facilities in one building is a tremendous asset both for patients' convenience and the constant availability of medical staff.

The Pediatric Walk-in Clinic is now able to function at night so that sick children will be seen in a facility specifically designed for their optimal care.

Personnel Order No. 2893

A Board of Merit, consisting of Superintendent-in-Chief William J. Taylor, Superintendent Herbert F. Mulloney, and Superintendent William A. Bradley, convened for the purpose of selecting officers who have distinguished themselves in the performance of duty so as to merit the award of the Walter Scott Medal for Valor and a Department Medal of Honor.

The Board of Merit, after due deliberation, selected each of the following officers who, in the judgment of the members of the Board, are entitled to the awards designated.

THE WALTER SCOTT MEDAL FOR VALOR AND A DEPARTMENT MEDAL OF HONOR AWARDED TO PATROLMAN JAMES W. RALSTON, DISTRICT 6.

About 5:05 A.M., Friday, June 26, 1970, Patrolman James W. Ralston and his partner in the 6-1 sector car responded to D Street and Old Colony Avenue on a report of a man there with a gun. Upon arrival, the officers were informed that the Merit Gas Station, 151 Old Colony Avenue, South Boston, had just been robbed by a man who displayed a silver .22 caliber revolver and fled the scene.

During the investigation a man fitting the description of the wanted robber was seen to jump from a rooftop at 83 West Seventh Street to another three-story dwelling at 81 West Seventh Street, whereupon the officers took up his pursuit. The male appeared at the edge of the roof displaying a revolver held against his own head and threatening to shoot himself or jump from the roof if the police did not withdraw from the area.

Patrolman Ralston entered 81 West Seventh Street and proceeded to the third floor landing, at which point the man on the roof broke a glass in the skylight but seeing the officer backed away and again threatened to jump from the roof. With the aid of a ladder Patrolman Ralston ascended to the roof and started conversing with the man, attempting to persuade him to drop his firearm. At no time did the officer draw his own revolver fearing he might cause the subject to either shoot himself or jump from the roof. After talking with the man approximately one hour, the man finally turned his loaded revolver over to Officer Ralston and submitted to the arrest on that three-story rooftop.

Patrolman Ralston's courage and performance of duty has reflected great credit upon himself and the department.

DEPARTMENT MEDALS OF HONOR AND THOMAS F. SULLIVAN AWARDS

Patrolman William F. MacLean, Tactical Patrol Force, is hereby awarded a Department Medal of Honor for meritorious police duty performed in the early morning of June 28, 1970.

On that date, Patrolman MacLean while en route home after completing a tour of duty observed an automobile bearing the registration of a car reported stolen earlier in the evening during the progress of an armed robbery committed in front of 32 Woodville Street, District 9, wherein the robber fled the scene in the victim's car.

Officer MacLean followed the suspect car from the downtown section of Boston and kept it under surveillance waiting for an appropriate time to apprehend the operator, which opportunity presented itself at Humboldt Avenue and Seaver Street, where he brought the car to a halt. As the officer approached the vehicle, the driver pointed a .38 caliber revolver at him, but the officer after a struggle successfully disarmed the subject and placed him under arrest.

The keen observation of Patrolman MacLean, his dedication to police service, even though off duty, and his intelligent action brought about the arrest unaided and unassisted of a dangerous felon who, subsequent investigation revealed, not only committed two robberies but had assaulted and raped a young girl earlier the same evening.

Detectives Edwin J. Kenneale, John T. Murray, and Frank Olbrys of the Criminal Investigation Division, Juvenile Aid Unit, detailed to District 11, are hereby awarded a Department Medal of Honor for meritorious police duty performed in connection with the solution of a vicious murder of a nine-year-old boy.

About 8:20 P.M., Friday, December 26, 1969, a nine-year-old boy was reported missing from his Dorchester home by his mother. A full description was provided to the police and a search was immediately instituted.

Detectives Kenneale, Murray, and Olbrys were involved in the investigation of this case from the beginning and were assigned to work exclusively on it, exploring all leads and interviewing any persons who may have had knowledge.

This intensive investigation, to which the officers devoted many of their off-duty hours as well, was conducted from December 26 until January 6, 1970, at which time the body of the young boy was discovered in an abandoned Railway Express building in the South Station in Boston. As a result of this discovery and further diligent investigation by these three officers and through their tireless effort and professional expertise they were able to trace the prior movements of the missing boy and determine the identity of the person with whom the missing youth had last been seen. The discovery of this gruesome crime and their determination to apprehend the person responsible for it eventually took the officers to Providence, Rhode Island, in search of the suspect, and resulted in his arrest in that city a few short hours after the body of the victim had been located. Subsequent investigation revealed the suspect to have been involved in the deaths of three other persons, all of which resulted in his indictment by the grand jury on four counts of murder.

The efficient performance of their duty reflects great credit upon the entire Boston Police Department and resulted in the taking into custody of a vicious depraved criminal.

Patrolman Joseph E. Walsh, District 13, is hereby awarded a Department Medal of Honor for meritorious police duty performed on October 21, 1969.

On Tuesday, October 21, 1969, Patrolman Joseph E. Walsh, while performing a paying detail at the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, observed flames in the rear of a nearby three-story, six-family wooden frame dwelling house. After alerting other officers in the area Patrolman Walsh then raced to the scene on foot, entered the building through an unlocked front entrance and escorted the occupants of the first and second floors to the street and safety. Patrolman Walsh reentered the building and assisted a lady from the third floor, and while guiding her down the smoke-filled staircase encountered one of the occupants who had reentered the building to salvage some possessions. While continuing to guide the one occupant, he had to forcibly remove, for her own safety, the other occupant who had reentered.

After making certain all assisted persons were out of danger, Patrolman Walsh went to the rear of the premises where he observed another occupant, trapped by the flames inside a first-floor window and too hysterical to heed the officer's pleas to jump into his arms, whom he also eventually rescued.

Patrolman Walsh's instantaneous response to this situation reflected great personal courage and was instrumental in saving the lives of these people.

Detective Richard M. Driscoll, Criminal Investigation Division, detailed to District 11, and Patrolman William H. Kelley, Jr., District 9, formerly District 11, are hereby awarded the Department Medal of Honor for meritorious police duty performed on October 25, 1969.

About 8:50 p.m., Saturday, October 25, 1969, Detective Richard Driscoll, assigned to a paying detail in plainclothes at the A & P Supermarket, 59 Pleasant Street, Dorchester, was in the manager's office overlooking the check-out registers, when he observed two armed males wearing silk-stocking masks over their faces, enter the front door. The two men thereupon held the employees and an undetermined number of customers at gunpoint as one gunman ordered a clerk to empty the cash registers while the other ordered the manager to open the store safe. At this point, Detective Driscoll was unable to take any police action for fear of jeopardizing the safety of the store employees and customers.

Patrolman William Kelley having been alerted to the holdup in progress responded on motorcycle and upon arrival observed the armed men through a window. He drew his service revolver and entered the premises, whereupon the gunman at the cash register turned and fired at him, while the second gunman similarly leveled his weapon. As Officer Kelley returned the fire, Detective Driscoll left his concealment with gun drawn, ordered both gunmen to drop their weapons and one of them fired on Detective Driscoll, who returned the fire striking the gunman in the chest.

The other gunman fled, but was pursued by Patrolman Kelley, and was captured a short distance away and found to have a bullet wound in the left leg. Both gunmen were arrested and placed under police guard at the Boston City Hospital, from where they were later released and prosecuted before the court.

The coolness and attentiveness to duty while under fire, manifested by Detective Driscoll and Patrolman Kelley, resulted in the arrest of two dangerous felons in a precarious situation, with a minimum of danger to other persons present.

Patrolman Robert J. Battis, Tactical Patrol Force, is hereby awarded a Department Medal of Honor for meritorious police duty performed on Wednesday, May 27, 1970.

About 2:30 a.m., on that date, Patrolman Robert Battis, after completing a tour of duty, was on his way home when in the vicinity of Centre and Knoll Streets, West Roxbury, he observed the male occupants of a sedan acting in a suspicious manner.

Knowing the area had been subjected to recent breaking and enterings, Patrolman Battis parked his own vehicle about a block from the area and returned on foot to investigate the actions of these persons. Upon reaching the suspect vehicle and finding it unoccupied, the officer began a check of the business establishments in the area during which he heard noises coming from the roof of Scollins Drug Store located at 1420 Centre Street, West Roxbury. Upon climbing the wall of an adjacent building and observing two men who appeared to be breaking and entering the drugstore premises, Patrolman Battis, without disclosing his presence, quietly descended and instructed a passing motorist to summon additional police assistance.

Shortly thereafter sector cars of District 5 responded, the premises were surrounded and the two burglars were apprehended. Investigation disclosed the premises had been entered and the combination of the store safe damaged in an attempt to enter it. A quantity of burglarious tools were found at the scene.

Patrolman Battis' keen observation, intelligent and prompt action while off duty resulted in the capture of two dangerous felons and the breakup of a burglary ring operating in the West Roxbury area.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

At a meeting of the Board of Health and Hospitals held on June 3, 1970, it was voted to enter into a contract for the period July 1, 1970, through December 31, 1970, with the Trustees of Health and Hospitals of the City of Boston, Inc., a charitable nonprofit corporation created by chapter 656 of the Acts of 1965, in the amount of $169,000, under which the Trustees will undertake certain activities; including specifically the operation of comprehensive multidisciplinary health programs through the establishment of health care clinics in existing city facilities under rental to the City of Boston within the neighborhoods of East Boston (1), Dorchester (2), South Boston (1).

Under this contract the Trustees will furnish and supply all equipment, supplies and personnel (licensed physicians and all medical and nonmedical personnel) and do everything necessary for and incidental to the operation of these clinics.

Inasmuch as this contractual undertaking is one of a personal and specialized nature, and since no benefit to the city can be derived from competitive bidding, your permission is respectfully requested to dispense with public advertising and to award this contract under the terms stated above.

CONSULTANT SERVICES MODEL CITY ADMINISTRATION

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

The Model City Administration hereby requests your approval to award a contract without advertising to the Elma Lewis School of Performing Arts, Inc., Roxbury, Mass., in an amount not to exceed $10,000, for providing consulting services to Model Cities for purposes of establishing an art instruction component as part of the Higher Education Program and for reserving space within its facilities for students taking art instruction as part of the curriculum of said program.

Under the terms of the contract, Elma Lewis School will provide consultation specifically to establish an art educational and instructional curriculum, which curriculum will permit students to take art instruction at the Elma Lewis School. The contract amount will also include costs incurred by the Elma Lewis School in reserving space for students selected by Model Cities to attend the school, and providing art instruction.

The contract shall be retroactively effective during the period January 15, 1970, through July 31, 1970.

It is requested that the award of the contract be dispensed from being advertised in the City Record because Elma Lewis School, nationally recognized center for arts, is located in the Model Neighborhood Area, and award of the contract therefore is consistent with the terms of the city's grant contract with the Department of Housing and Urban Development, requiring utilization of locally available resources wherever possible.

Sincerely,

PAUL PARKS,
Administrator.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

We hereby request your approval to award, without advertising, a consultant contract for services to be performed between September 21, 1970, and November 27, 1970, to Messrs. Thaddas Allston, Wendell Knox, Otis Troupe, and Walter Mallette, doing business as the Alpha Group, 54 Winston Road, Dorchester, in an amount not to exceed $18,500.

The Model City Agency desires to assist local trucking contractors to expand their businesses into other available markets, including, if feasible, bidding on a city trash collection district. For this purpose the agency desires to contract with a consultant to analyze such other markets and to assess the capacity of local companies to perform sanitation work. Four local consultants were requested to submit proposals for the contract.

Based on the proposals received, we feel that the Alpha Group is most capable of completing the desired work. For this reason, and also so that we may comply with the federal mandate to provide maximum opportunity for employing area residents in the Model City Program, it is requested that the contract be awarded without advertising.

Very truly yours,

PAUL PARKS,
Administrator.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

We hereby request your approval to award a contract for consultant services in an amount not to exceed fifteen thousand one hundred (15,100) dollars to Murray Segal, 1033 Beacon Street, Brookline, Mass.

This contract is to provide the Model City Administration with the necessary traffic studies data and technical expertise required to prepare Traffic Operations Program to Increase Capacity and Safety (T.O.P.I.C.S.) proposals for the following areas: Dudley Station, Grove Hall, Dudley Street-Blue Hill Avenue, and Eggleston Square. The objective of the T.O.P.I.C.S. proposals shall be to obtain recommendations in methods to reduce traffic congestion, facilitate the flow of traffic, and reduce accidents within the study areas.

Requests for proposals were submitted to three consultants and each of the three consultants returned a cost estimate. After examining the bids submitted for the contract, Murray Segal is being recommended to provide the services desired for the following reasons:

(1) His estimated time of completion was the shortest and he has the capacity to complete the job within this time.

(2) He is the only consultant who has completed a prior T.O.P.I.C.S. proposal.

(3) His cost estimate was the media estimate submitted by the three consultants.

(4) He has a close working relationship with the Traffic and Parking Department which will expedite review and approval of the proposals.

(5) He has shown in discussion with our staff that he is responsive to community objectives.

This contract will be effective during the period October 15, 1970, through October 15, 1971.

Award of this contract is consistent with provisions of the city's grant contract with the Department of HUD providing for opportunities for training and employment for Model Neighborhood Area residents.

It is requested that because of the aforementioned reasons, notice of the contract be dispensed from public advertising in the City Record.

Respectfully yours,

PAUL PARKS,
Administrator.

POLICE DEPARTMENT CONSULTANT SERVICES

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Boston Police Department has been awarded a grant from 1970 Action Funds from the Safe Streets Act in the amount of $350,000. The purpose of this grant is to provide funding for the department to carry on work in the areas of records and communications, information system development, resources allocation, command and control, and related areas.

Among the new projects that the department will be able to undertake as a result of this grant is a design and cost-benefit analysis of a car locator and automatic vehicle monitoring system. This system has the potential of providing great dividends to the department in better allocating its forces, in improving greatly the response time to emergency calls, and in making available new communications functions linking the officer on the street and Headquarters. The results of this study will put the city in a high priority position for receiving a demonstration grant from the Federal Departments of Transportation and Justice to implement the system.

Urban Sciences, Inc., of Framingham, Mass., is recognized as one of the leading consultant companies in the field of car locator and automatic vehicle monitoring system design and analysis. Personnel of this organization have served as top level consultants to federal agencies and to various manufacturers who are in this field. As an independent consultant that is knowledgeable in the operational, engineering, and analytical problems involved, Urban Sciences, Inc., is singularly capable of providing the consultant services to the Police Department necessary to study, design, and develop this system and to analyze the costs and benefits of the system to determine whether or not it would be in the best overall interests of the department and the city to implement such a system.

As Urban Sciences, Inc., is exceptionally qualified to provide the consultant services necessitated in this project, I believe that it would be in the best interest of the City of Boston and its Police Department to dispense with the usual solicitation for bids in the City Record and to enter into an agreement with Urban Sciences, Inc., Framingham, Mass., in the amount of $20,000 to provide the required consultant services.

I hereby respectfully request your Honor's written authorization so to do.

Respectfully,

EDMUND L. McNAMARA,
Police Commissioner.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Boston Police Department has been awarded a grant from 1970 Action Funds from the Safe Streets Act in the amount of $350,000. The purpose of this grant is to provide funding for the department to carry on work in the areas of records and communications, information system development, resource allocation, command and control, and related areas. Some of the funds have been designated for the continuation of work previously started by the department under previous grants, while other funds have been allocated for work in new areas.

Arthur D. Little, Inc., has served as the department's consultant in previous stages of its command and control and integrated information system study. The department's relationship with Arthur D. Little, Inc., has resulted in the design of systems which will make the department a leader in the application of the innovations of modern science and technology to police operations.

As Arthur D. Little, Inc., is exceptionally qualified to provide the consultant services necessitated in the project and is the only consultant organization intimately familiar with our previous work in this area, I believe that it would be in the best interest of the City of Boston and its Police Department to dispense with the usual solicitation for bids in the City Record and to enter into an agreement with Arthur D. Little, Inc., Acorn Park, Cambridge, Mass., in the amount of $100,000.

I hereby respectfully request your Honor's written authorization so to do.

Respectfully,

EDMUND L. McNAMARA,
Police Commissioner.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Boston Police Department has been awarded a grant from 1969 Action Funds from the Safe Streets Act to study the department's personnel and recruiting requirements and to develop a plan for the improvement of career opportunities for department personnel. Work made possible under this grant will allow the department, aided by a consultant, to study its current personnel situation, develop a comprehensive personnel profile, project the profile into the future, and develop a recruitment and personnel program for meeting our future needs.

The consultant agency for this project must have extensive skills and background in personnel administration and analysis, recruitment program design, human relations, career program development and related areas, and must also be familiar with the personnel policies of the city and with the Massachusetts civil service laws.

Social Dynamics, Incorporated, of 335 Newbury Street, Boston, has demonstrated the above skills in previous work with the city of Boston and in work with other governmental and private agencies. This organization, through previous work with the Police Department and through considerable self-initiated research on its own part, has also demonstrated considerable understanding of the personnel recruitment and career development problems of city government in general and the Boston Police in particular.

As Social Dynamics, Inc., is exceptionally qualified to provide the consultant services required in this project, I believe that it would be in the best interest of the City of Boston and its Police Department to dispense with the usual solicitation for bids in the City Record and to enter into an agreement with Social Dynamics, Inc., 335 Newbury Street, Boston, in the amount of $16,000 to provide the required consultant service.

I hereby respectfully request your Honor's written authorization so to do.

EDMUND L. McNAMARA,

PUBLIC FACILITIES DEPARTMENT SPECIFICATIONS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Charles A. Maguire & Associates, Inc., have duly completed preliminary studies, basic drawings, outline specifications, and construction cost estimates for constructing the Georgetowne Elementary School in the West Roxbury district of the city, as called for under its contract therewith with the city executed on November 5, 1969.

Therefore, as now authorized by the Public Facilities Commission, I hereby request of your Honor, in the name and on behalf of the Commission, written permission to forego public advertising in the official chronicle of municipal affairs for the city, the City Record, in the award of a contract to Charles A. Maguire & Associates, Inc., Architects, a Delaware corporation licensed to do business in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to prepare working drawings, detailed specifications, and construction cost estimates for, and for the supervision of construction of, the Georgetowne Elementary School in the West Roxbury district of the City of Boston, at a fee not to exceed $221,750, and upon receipt of such authority to execute said contract in the name and on behalf of the Commission.

The architect's fee, taken from the A. I. A. 1967 recommended schedule of minimum "B" rates and based upon an estimated cost of construction of $5,564,000, shall be at 5.47 percent of said estimated construction cost, less the sum of $82,600, paid to the architect under the initial contract with the firm. The contract now proposed will also provide for presently estimated needs for supplementary services by the architect, at an added cost of $51,600. The maximum liability of the City of Boston under the new contract is to be $273,350.

In view of the category of services to be furnished under the proposed contract, I am of the opinion that nothing would be gained by a public invitation for competitive bids therefor.

Respectfully,

ROBERT T. KENNEY,
Director.

EMERGENCY MEASURES — STORAGE TANK LEAKS

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

At the Mattapan Chronic Disease Hospital there exists a dangerous condition of possible fire and explosion resulting from fuel oil leaking from the storage tanks directly into the boiler room and other adjacent rooms within the power house complex.

Anticipating the problems involved in availability of fuel oil, all available storage tanks at this facility were filled to capacity and this included two inside tanks having a total capacity of approximately 34,000 gallons. The leaking oil from these two relatively old (40 years more or less) tanks has grown progressively since the filling. Reports and investigations by all departments including the Boston Fire Department determine this to be a very dangerous situation. The Fire Department has detailed the necessary equipment and manpower to be present until the danger has been abated.

To eliminate the hazards and danger emergency measures will be necessary and because these tanks are within a masonry enclosure with a sand fill between tanks and masonry, it will be necessary to work, investigate, evaluate, and determine type and degree of additional work. These activities must be scheduled and done cooperatively and continuously by both skilled and technical manpower.

Your Honor's written approval is respectfully requested to dispense with public advertising for bids and to award a contract to Scott-Prescott Corporation, 21 Intervale Street, Quincy, Mass., on a basis of payment for cost of labor, materials, equipment, and special services with a factor of ten (10) percent added to amount for each of these categories for all overhead cost and an additional factor of (10) percent added for all anticipated profit and the aggregate not to exceed $20,000.

Very truly yours,

ROBERT T. KENNEY,
Director.

REAL PROPERTY DEPARTMENT UNIFORM AND MOP SERVICE

YOUR HONOR:

I respectfully request your written permission to dispense with inviting proposals by advertisement in the City Record in awarding a contract to Federal National Linen Service Company, of 1310 Columbus Avenue, Boston, for uniform and mop service for personnel at the Real Property Department for the period April 1, 1970, through March 31, 1971, at a total cost not to exceed six thousand dollars ($6,000).

This firm's rates are reasonable and fair, the firm is charging the same rates for comparable work in the Traffic and Parking Division, and the firm has performed this work in the past in a capable manner.

In my opinion the invitation for bids would serve no useful purpose.

Yours truly,

ANTHONY E. FORGIONE,
Assistant Commissioner.

TRAFFIC AND PARKING DEPARTMENT INVESTIGATIVE SERVICES

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I respectfully request your written authority to dispense with inviting proposals by public advertising in the City Record and to award a contract to Westwood Investigative Associates for supply to the Traffic and Parking Department of investigative services for the period November 1, 1970, to March 31, 1971.

The contract provides for services, as required, on a work order basis and is proposed for a maximum expenditure of $5,000.

Due to the highly confidential and professional nature of the services to be rendered, it is my finding that public advertising for bids could serve no useful purpose.

Yours truly,

WILLIAM R. McGRATH,
Commissioner.

ENGINEERING SERVICES

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I respectfully request your written authority to dispense with inviting proposals by public advertising in the City Record, and to award a contract to Murray D. Segal, Transportation Consultant, for providing professional traffic engineering services in the preparation of proposals and studies for the TOPICS program. Approved programs of the Traffic Operations Program to Increase Capacity and Safety (TOPICS) are funded on a 50-50 state and federal basis and it is to the city's advantage to complete and submit the necessary proposals for approval as expeditiously as possible.

The proposed consultant's charges for this work were submitted to the undersigned in the form of a proposal received October 1, 1970. The consultant shall be paid on a monthly basis but in no event shall the maximum liability of the city, under the terms of the proposed contract, exceed the sum of ten thousand ($10,000) dollars.

It is proposed that the contract be in effect for the period of November 1, 1970, to March 31, 1971, and, in view of the very technical nature of the services involved, no useful purpose would, in my opinion, be served by publicly advertising for bids.

Yours truly,

WILLIAM R. McGRATH,
Commissioner.

YOUTH ACTIVITIES COMMISSION BUSES

DEAR MAYOR WHITE:

I hereby request your permission to award a contract to the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority during the period June 15, 1969, through August 15, 1970.

This contract will provide buses for transportation to and from Hanscom Air Force Base, Bedford, Mass., and Polaroid Corporation, Waltham, Mass., for approximately 100 youth to be employed by these companies in cooperation with the summer employment program of the city's Youth Activities Commission.

Payments under this contract will not exceed the sum of $12,250, and will be made only after the receipt of a grant from the Department of Housing and Urban Development, which grant will pay the entire costs of this contract.

In view of the M.B.T.A.'s special ability and experience in the past in providing special bus service of children for the city and the fact that the M.B.T.A.'s costs are comparable, in my view public advertising would serve no useful purpose.

Respectfully,

CLARENCE "JEEP" JONES,
Executive Director.

SUFFOLK COUNTY

MUNICIPAL COURT, CITY OF BOSTON

Uarco, Inc., has quoted a price of thirty-one dollars and twenty-one cents ($31.21) per thousand forms on the basis of two hundred thousand (200,000) summons forms for which the total cost will be six thousand two hundred forty-two dollars ($6,242) for the contract year April 1, 1970, through March 21, 1971.

Hub's Ice-Skating Programs Expanded

Boston ice-skating enthusiasts will be glad to hear that this year the city will provide more than double the amount of ice-skating facilities as last season, according to Mayor Kevin White and Boston's Parks and Recreation Department.

Beginning December 14, playgrounds, ball fields, and tennis courts throughout the city were flooded to allow more Boston residents to pursue this popular winter pastime.

"The expanded ice-flooding program is part of a continuing effort to provide top-notch recreational facilities all year round for Bostonians of all ages," Mayor White said.

He explained that heavy usage of skating facilities last year and requests from community residents for additional iced areas led to the program's expansion.

At the center of the geographically widespread list of areas are the Frog Pond on Boston Common and the lagoon in the Public Garden. These areas will be lighted and skaters will be serenaded by recorded waltz music.

The larger areas will be staffed during working hours by Parks Department personnel.

According to Parks Commissioner Joseph Curtis, several areas considered for flooding had to be eliminated due to the proximity of floodlights and other high voltage equipment which might have proven hazardous to skaters. Also, the possibility of water seepage into neighborhood homes and buildings was taken into consideration before locations were chosen.

Areas in which flooding began December 14 are:

Dorchester Park, lower bowl along Adams Street.

Town Field, Dorchester, softball field.

McConnell Playground, Savin Hill.

O'Day Playground, South End, basketball courts.

Castle Square, South End.

Billings Field, West Roxbury, La Grange Street and Sturges Road. South Boston locker building field.

Rogers Playground, Lake Street, Brighton.

Smith Pond, Hyde Park.

Cronin Playground, Dorchester.

Hynes Field basketball court, West Roxbury.

Ross Playground, Hyde Park.

Rotch Playground, South End.

Barry Playground, Charlestown.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

December 10.

General Order No. 58

OPERATING PROCEDURE FOR SUMNER AND
CALLAHAN TRAFFIC TUNNELS

Due to the changes agreed upon by the tunnel authorities and representatives of this department, the following General Order is issued:

General Order No. 45, dated November 9, 1965, and Subject III of Special Order No. 77, dated November 5, 1970, except the first paragraph, is hereby rescinded and replaced with the following:

Sumner Traffic Tunnel

In the event of a fire or accident in the Sumner Traffic Tunnel, Box 123 will be transmitted. The Fire Department response will be Engine Companies 8, 9, 25, and 11; Ladder Companies 1 and 2; Rescue Company, Districts 1 and 3. Inasmuch as the flow of traffic in this tunnel is one way from East Boston to Boston, a fire or accident in the tunnel will in all probability prevent the movement of traffic beyond the point of the incident. Therefore, the tunnel employees will stop the flow of traffic into the tunnel from the East Boston side and direct all vehicles ahead of the incident to move into the right-hand lane and proceed out of the tunnel, thus leaving the left-hand lane open for fire apparatus entering from the Boston side. The open lane will be located on the fire line side of the tunnel, providing ready access to outlets.

Engine Company 8 is the first due engine company on the Boston side. The hose wagon will stop at the Sumner Traffic Tunnel exit ramp to permit members of Ladder Company 1 to get on the hose wagon with forcible entry tools and gas masks; and proceed into the tunnel in the open lane. Extreme caution should be used to avoid an accident with an oncoming vehicle, which may have not moved over sufficiently into the right-hand lane. The district fire chief of District 3 shall also proceed into the tunnel. All other apparatus responding on the Boston side shall stand by outside the tunnel. The companies and district fire chief responding from East Boston shall stand by outside the tunnel on the East Boston side awaiting orders.

except that the district fire chief of District 1 shall assign a fire fighter to the telephone switchboard in the Administration Building, 5 Havre Street, to relay messages received from the tunnel telephone system to the Fire Alarm Office, because radio communication with the Fire Alarm Office cannot be carried on inside the tunnel.

During the winter season when the fire line in the Sumner Traffic Tunnel is drained to prevent freezing, one man from Ladder Company 1 shall proceed on foot to the Boston Ventilation Building at 308-328 North Street and open valve; and Engine Company 40 shall respond to East Boston Ventilation Building at 55-65 Liverpool Street and open valve. These valves are in manholes with covers painted "Red." Signs marked "Fire Valve" are placed on buildings to indicate manhole locations.

Callahan Traffic Tunnel

In the event of a fire or accident in the Callahan Traffic Tunnel, Box 124 will be transmitted. The Fire Department response will be Engine Companies 8, 9, 25, and 11; Ladder Companies 1 and 2; Rescue Company; and Districts 1 and 3. Inasmuch as the flow of traffic in this tunnel is one way from Boston to East Boston, a fire or accident in the tunnel will in all probability prevent the movement of traffic beyond the point of the incident. Therefore, the tunnel employees will stop the flow of traffic into the tunnel from the Boston side and direct all vehicles ahead of the incident to move into the right-hand lane and proceed out of the tunnel, thus leaving the left-hand lane open for fire apparatus entering the East Boston side. The open lane will be located on the fire line side of the tunnel providing ready access to outlets.

Engine Company 9 is the first due engine company on the East Boston side. This company (a single unit pump) will stop at the Callahan Traffic Tunnel exit ramp to permit members of Ladder Company 2 to get on the pump with forcible entry tools and gas masks and proceed into the tunnel in the open lane. Extreme caution should be used to avoid an accident with an oncoming vehicle which may not have moved over sufficiently into the right-hand lane. The district fire chief of District 1 shall also proceed into the tunnel. All other apparatus responding on the East Boston side shall stand by outside the tunnel. Prior to his entrance into the tunnel the district fire chief of District 1 shall assign a fire fighter to the telephone switchboard in the Administration Building, 3 Havre Street, to relay messages received from the tunnel telephone system to the Fire Alarm Office, because radio communication with the Fire Alarm Office cannot be carried on inside the tunnel. The companies and the district fire chief responding from the Boston side shall stand by outside the tunnel on the Boston side awaiting orders.

During the winter season when the fire line in the Callahan Traffic Tunnel is drained to prevent freezing, a man from Ladder Company 1 shall proceed on foot to the yard on Richmond Street side of the Boston Ventilation Building, North Street, near North Square, and open valve in manhole to supply water to outlets inside tunnel. To supply water to outlets in wall niches on entrance ramp, the fire valve in pump room on catwalk, just outside tunnel portal, must be turned on. Water may also be obtained from city hydrant located nearby on Cross Street. Engine Company 40 shall respond to and open fire valve located in a manhole on sidewalk on Decatur Street, near London Street, and adjacent to the East Boston Ventilation Building. Valves are plainly marked "Fire Valve" and manhole covers are painted "Red."

Procedures Applicable to Both Tunnels

In the event that a fire or accident is at or inside the entrance of either traffic tunnel for only a short distance, the first arriving engine company may proceed to the scene of the incident in the direction of flow of traffic, if not blocked by vehicles and it is safe to do so.

If a street fire alarm box in the vicinity of the entrance or exits of either tunnel is pulled for a fire or accident in either tunnel, the first arriving company shall immediately notify the Fire Alarm Office that the box was pulled for a fire in the tunnel, specifying whether it is the Sumner or Callahan. The Fire Alarm Office shall then notify the tunnel authorities so that they can assist the fire apparatus in getting to the scene as mentioned previously.

In the event of a fire with severe smoke conditions near the ventilation buildings on each side of the tunnels, the chauffeur of the district fire chief at the scene shall notify the Fire Alarm Office to inform the tunnel authorities so that necessary precautions can be taken to prevent smoke from being drawn into the tunnel.

Chief officers of the districts affected, including those who have companies in their districts which cover companies directly concerned with these evolutions, shall see that members of their commands are thoroughly familiar with the contents of this order through repeated drills.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE, MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

HON. KEVIN H. WHITE, MAYOR OF BOSTON

GABRIEL F. PIEMONTE
PRESIDENT CITY COUNCIL

VOL. 62

MONDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1970

No. 52

Mayor Urges State Rent Control Law

Mayor Kevin White on December 18 vetoed a watered-down version of his expanded rent control program and immediately asked the City Council to accept the stringent state rent control law.

The state bill extends coverage to nonowner-occupied two- and three-family houses and allows the city to subpoena information from landlords to justify rent adjustments. It also permits the city to initiate complaints against suspected rent gougers.

In disapproving the rent control plan passed by the Council, Mayor White said he objected primarily to several major amendments which "cut the heart out of the bill" he had submitted.

The city's existing rent control program, which the Mayor is seeking to strengthen, was first in the state. It was signed into law in November, 1969.

"The requirement that rents be regulated on a case-by-case basis makes it impossible for the Board of Rent Appeals to provide relief to more than a tiny fraction of deserving tenants, and the Board is having little success in holding down general rental levels throughout the city," the Mayor said. In addition, he noted, landlords generally have failed to comply with the registration requirements, and penalties are too low to deter violations.

He expected the Council to make some changes in his proposed expanded program, but when it removed the most important provisions he could not accept it.

"During its deliberations, the City Council amended the ordinance virtually beyond recognition and, in the process, cut out the heart of it," he explained. "Of the five key features of the bill, only two remained — those being eviction controls and stronger penalties."

Missing from the Council-approved version was the establishment of a maximum rent — that which was in effect on December 1, 1968 — with a prohibition against subsequent rent increases without prior approval of the Board. Also stricken from the Mayor's bill was a provision authorizing the Board to adjust maximum rents on a general basis by regulation applicable to a class of housing (e.g., all nonowner-occupied three-family houses in a particular area or all apartment houses with more than a specified number of units in a particular area) as well as on an individual basis by order.

The Mayor said he had considered resubmitting his original bill to the Council, "but it was so emasculated in the legislative process that I have serious doubts whether it could be salvaged."

In opting for the state plan, the Mayor said, "This law, with limited exceptions, must be either accepted or rejected in its entirety. It is, I believe, a sound and well-constructed system of rent control that includes all of the ingredients I regard as essential."

In filing his own program with the Council on October 5, the Mayor said he preferred it to the state plan because it allowed the city greater latitude in adapting rent control to meet local conditions.

However, he left the final decision with the City Council, saying: "The difference between the two systems is not very great, and, in view of the pressing need for comprehensive rent control, I urge you to adopt one system or the other immediately."

PWD Suggests Clearing Drainage Systems

Joseph Casazza, Commissioner of Public Works, reports that he is receiving an increasing number of complaints from home owners of cellars and streets flooding due to heavy rains and rapidly melting snow.

To supplement the considerable effort his department is making to respond to this problem, Commissioner Casazza suggests that residents shovel snow away from catch basins and other drainage systems near their homes to allow the water to drain.

Harvard Initiates

New Program

The 1971 Harvard Summer School Institute in Arts Administration will be held July 6-30, according to Thomas E. Crooks, Director of the Summer School of Arts and Sciences and of Education.

The program provides individuals with skills in management and problem-solving relevant to administering arts organizations and activities. The goal is an understanding of the fundamentals of managing arts organizations, as distinct from performing. These include community arts centers and councils, orchestra companies, theater groups, dance organizations, museums, and university arts programs.

The program curriculum focuses on three core areas—basic management subjects (e.g., financial administration, audience development, management structure), administering arts organizations, and the impact on management of artistic criteria. Classroom sessions employ the Harvard Business School case method approach.

Further information on the July 1971 program is available from the Director, Harvard Summer School Institute in Arts Administration, 735 Holyoke Center, Cambridge, Massachusetts 02138.

Children's Exhibit

Children and parents are being given an opportunity to participate in an art show entitled "What Is It? Visit, revisited."

Sponsored by the Institute of Contemporary Art and the Children's Museum, the exhibition is being shown through January 2 at Boston City Hall—a Christmas gift from the city to its children.

The purpose of the exhibit is twofold. The first is to eliminate any concern a child might have in approaching contemporary art; i.e., a child need not be in awe of a Picasso painting because of its distortion and fragmentation when it can be pointed out that an artist very often sees the same world we do, only from a different point of view. A landscape reflected in water is distorted; a glance in a cracked mirror fragments the image.

The second purpose is to involve children in the same problems and challenges an adult artist faces. There are twelve projects, each accompanied by a painting or sculpture, which invite the child to do something related to the work.

Parker House to Expand

The Parker House, reputedly the oldest hotel in continuous operation in the United States, is planning to increase its size by half as many rooms again, which would make it the third largest hotel in the Boston area.

John P. Dunfey, president of Dunfey Family Hotels and Motor Inns, announced plans for the construction of a 300-room Parker House Tower Building, directly behind and connected to the present 600-room structure this week.

The Tower will be a focal point of a planned restoration project in the downtown Boston area that will include the old City Hall, Bosworth Street, O'Reilly Plaza, Chapman Place, and Province Street. The project includes plans for pedestrian walkways with trees, shrubbery, and benches.

The new Parker House Tower will rise twenty-five stories and will feature five penthouse suites at the top. Groundbreaking is planned for this coming spring, with opening target for spring of 1972.

A curved drive-in entrance, lined with benches and plantings, will front on Providence Street, with three enclosed walkways across Chapman Place connecting the Tower with the Parker House itself.

The Dunfey family is also expected to take over operation of the 300-car Province Street Garage that will be attached to the Tower Building, Dunfey indicated. The enclosed bridge connections will allow free access between the parking facility, the Parker House Tower, and the Parker House.

Each Tower room will have two double beds, large color television, refrigerator, a sitting and lounge area, and large picture windows.

The Tower building will be glass-walled and will feature a glassed-in first floor lobby with a view of Chapman Place.

The entire project will cost an estimated $5 million before completion, Dunfey said. The Dunfey family recently completed a renovation program of the existing 600 rooms and function facilities and public space at a cost of some $2 million.

The present plans for the Tower do not include any new food and beverage facilities, but Dunfey pointed out that the Tower will connect directly with the existing facilities at the Parker House itself, including the main dining room, the Revere Room, and the Landing Lounge.

Dunfey pointed to the Parker House's proximity to Boston's financial, business, legal, and brokerage communities as the hotel's major drawing card.

"It is from this area that we expect to draw the large percentage of the Tower's guest business," he said.

The hotel is located just down the street from the Government Center complex and is within walking distance of the financial and brokerage district as well as the major downtown retail stores.

In addition to these existing facilities, a number of new office buildings are either under construction or in the planning stages near the Parker House.

Among these are the 40-story Boston Safe Deposit Building, the new Boston Five Cent Savings Bank Building, and the 40-story Employers Commercial Union Building directly across the street.

Pike Advisory Service

Chairman John T. Driscoll of the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority announced on December 21, that the 24-hour weather and road conditions advisory service is available for motorists planning winter travel on the 135 miles of the Massachusetts Turnpike.

The 24-hour Massachusetts Pike weather and road conditions advisory service is available by placing a phone call in the area which is most convenient to you:

Boston, 254-6590.

Auburn, 1-TE-2-4419.

Chicopee, 413-594-6648.

Lee, 413-243-1359.

Four new major parking garages have also opened just a few blocks from the hotel within the past year. And the old City Hall, across the street from the Parker House, is undergoing a restoration process and will be opened as a tourist attraction.

Declaration

Whereas, The Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr., died in the struggle for full human rights for all American citizens; and

Whereas, Many citizens of the City of Boston are still engaged in that struggle for equality and individual freedoms in a society whose institutions often undermine these rights; and

Whereas, The government and people of the City of Boston, the birthplace of a republic dedicated to the preservation of human rights, affirm these basic freedoms as the foundation of a free society; and

Whereas, The Mayor's Office of Human Rights is striving to ensure these basic rights for all citizens — the right to work and pay commensurate with individual ability, the right to decent housing, the right to an education directed to the full development of the human personality, the right to fair and equal treatment by the law; and

Whereas, It is appropriate to renew our common dedication to the full development of human potential and to the end of the vestiges of discrimination on the forty-second birthday of the Reverend Martin Luther King, a man who devoted his life to this cause;

Now, therefore, I, Kevin H. White, Mayor of Boston, declare January 15, 1971, as Human Rights Day and the week of January 10-16 as Human Rights Week in the City of Boston, and call on all its citizens to participate in this observance.

KEVIN H. WHITE, Mayor.

This tribute would have touched him for he had always felt a great pride in the Boston Fire Fighters. Under the terms of this contract, the aforesaid physicians will serve under the Board of Health and Hospitals, but without direct compensation from the City of Boston. The individual assignments to the positions named herein will be by the University with the approval of the Board.

In taking this action, I also do hereby rescind and revoke any and all action in this regard formerly taken by myself and for the Board of Health and Hospitals of the City of Boston.

The decision of the Board to enter into such an arrangement was made after consideration of several factors, the most influential being to make it possible for these physicians to take advantage of certain fringe benefits which would not otherwise be available if they were paid directly by the city. I refer particularly to the Teacher Insurance Annuity Association, a nationwide pension plan offering extremely generous benefits to its members who must be associated directly with and compensated directly by, a university, college, or medical school. Benefits accruing through membership in this association can be transferred if and when academic affiliation might be changed. This would not be possible if these physicians were compensated directly by the City of Boston and a member of the State-Boston Retirement System.

Therefore, because of their special fitness for the services they are to perform, your approval is respectfully requested to award this contract, without advertising, to Boston University School of Medicine under the terms stated herein.

Very truly yours,
ANDREW P. SACKETT, M.D.,
Commissioner.
